Tax Cutting Decision To Be Deferred

Congress Action On Checking Recession May Come In June

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress may delay until June or even July any decision on reducing taxes to fight the recession.

This view was put forward today by influential members of the Democratic-controlled House, which originates tax legislation, in the midst of conflicting comments elsewhere that (A) the slump is leveling off or (B) that quick action by Congress is needed on many fronts to boost the economy.

New support for a tax cut came in an economic study report by the Rockefeller Brothers Fund recommending a series of public and private steps but calling a tax reduction the quickest way to get results.

Favors Slash Soon
The report itself made no specific recommendations as to timing or size but Nelson A. Rockefeller, fund president, said he personally favors a cut within a month.

He said he would go along with those economists who recommended a five to seven billion dollar slash.

The attitude of key members of Congress on taxes, however, appears to have undergone some change in recent weeks. Earlier, the belief was prevalent that the decision would come in April or May — certainly not later than June 30, because many wartime excise tax rates are due to drop then unless extended.

But legislators considering the problem say these excises could be extended at present levels and changed later if excise cuts are decided upon.

The possibility of a tax cut was still very much in the picture. Even if the economic slump proves to have slowed to a stop, some key members say a tax reduction still could be voted later to speed up recovery and get the economy off dead center earlier than if nature was allowed to take its course.

See Tax Cut Best Method
The Rockefeller Brothers Fund report, prepared by a panel of businessmen and economists, "Of the antirecession measures available to the federal government, tax reduction can be effective in the shortest time. This panel believes that a tax cut would help overcome the current recession and expand employment."

Cheryl Parents Ready To Offer Plan In Custody

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Stephen Crane says he and his former wife Lana Turner plan to present a custody proposal to the juvenile court Thursday regarding their daughter Cheryl Crane.

The girl has been in juvenile hall since April 4, when the actress' boy friend John Stompanato, 32, was fatally stabbed in her bedroom. Police said 14-year-old Cheryl told them she killed Stompanato with a butcher knife to protect her mother from his threats. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide.

One Man Killed In D. C. Gunfight

WASHINGTON (AP) — One man was killed, another wounded and a passer-by was nicked by a stray shot in a gunfight here last night.

Joseph B. Smallwood, 32, was charged with homicide in the shotgun slaying of Robert Caldwell, 31. Smallwood was shot in a thigh by a .38 caliber bullet.

Lorenzo M. White, 25, who was driving by the house where the shootings took place, was nicked behind an ear by a shotgun pellet.

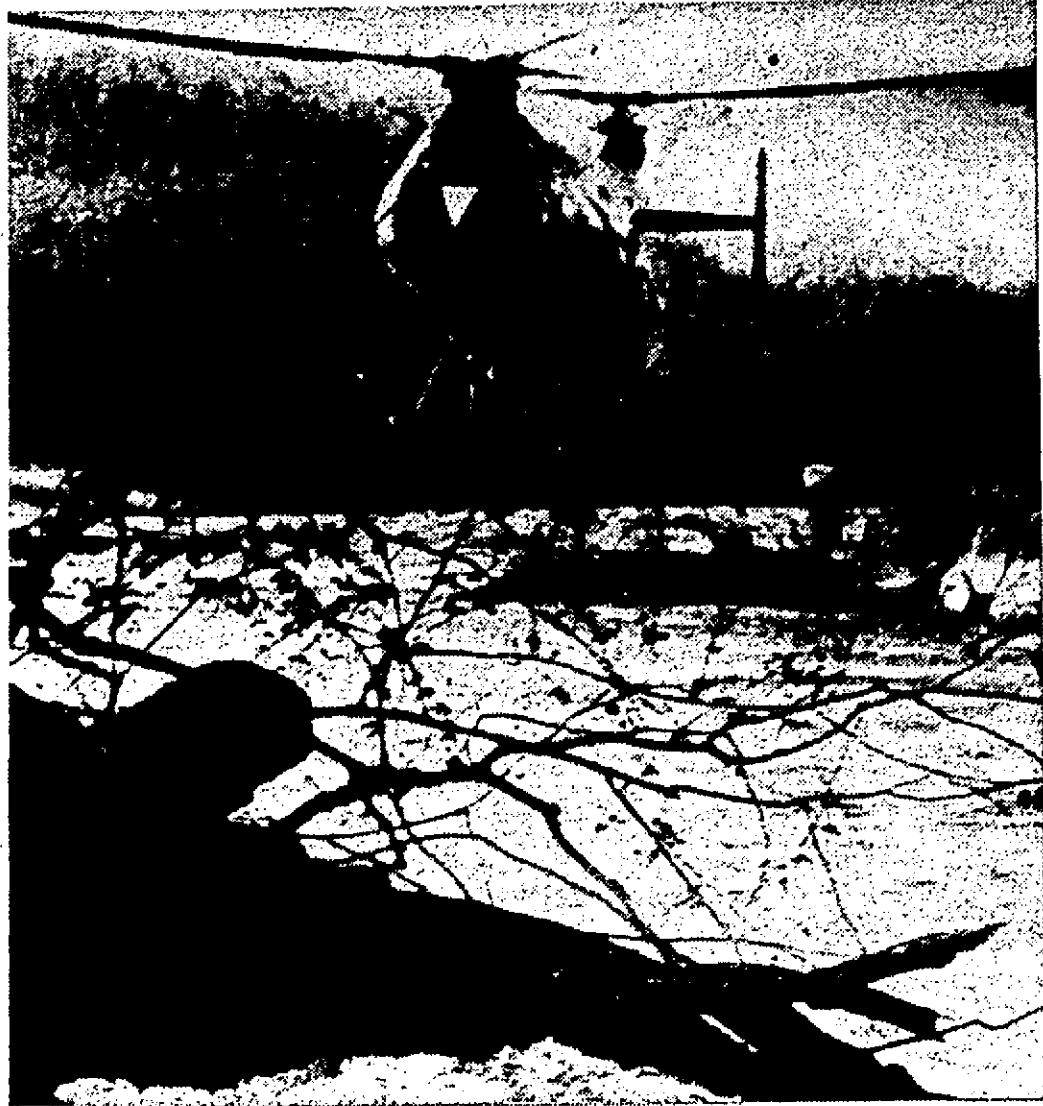

Jet Pilot Bails Out, Plane Crashes Near Crowded Area

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — An out-of-control jet trainer crashed and exploded in a field surrounded by a crowded residential area last night. The pilot parachuted to safety.

Capt. William T. Ball, 31, a Marine assigned to the Columbus Naval Air Station, said he ejected himself from the plane after its electrical system failed and the craft had gone out of control in a thunderstorm.

He landed on a roof of a house about four miles away, and suffered broken ribs.

The TV2 Navy jet trainer crashed into a 30-acre muddy cornfield. It exploded and shot a

Kilday Cites No Delay In Defense Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Kilday (D-Tex.) said today the issue of giving the secretary of defense a bigger say in the use of military funds is squarely before Congress now.

Kilday, a senior member of the House Armed Services Committee, said it is a "dangerous mistake to think that President Eisenhower has postponed for a year this aspect of his defense reorganization plan — perhaps the most controversial part of it."

When Eisenhower sent Congress the draft legislation last Wednesday, he said the secretary of defense needs "greater flexibility in money matters." He added that no legislation was required, but that he had directed that the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1959, should be prepared on a new basis.

This was generally interpreted as a move to delay the battle in Congress over the major fiscal aspect of defense reorganization until this budget comes up for consideration after next January.

But Kilday said there is one section in the Eisenhower draft bill which, if adopted by Congress in the meanwhile, could greatly strengthen the administration's position on military appropriations.

Hospital Burns, Patients Saved

SYLVA, N.C. (AP) — A $400,000 fire last night destroyed the 40-bed C. J. Harris Community Hospital in this western North Carolina town. All 23 patients, and babies in the maternity ward, were evacuated safely.

Dr. Walter J. Durr, risking his life, prowled the smoke-filled corridors to carry patient after patient to safety before he was faintly overcome by fumes. He was not seriously affected.

The blaze was discovered in a linen room in the basement of the hospital by a man visiting a relative.

Rebel Forces Making Stand In Indonesia

SINGAPORE (AP) — The Sumatran rebels are reported to be making their first determined military stand in the two-month-old Indonesian civil war.

One of their leaders, meanwhile, came out in the open in recaptured Padang, defying threats of reprisal by President Sukarno's forces.

Mohamed Natsir, leader of the Moslem Masjumi party, appeared yesterday and spoke at a mass prayer meeting on the outskirts of Padang, the Central Sumatran port city captured by 6,000 Sukarno troops Thursday. The rebel radio reported the occupying forces left him alone.

The bulk of Sukarno's invasion force was pushing up a tortuous mountain road toward the rebel capital of Bukittinggi. Although the outnumbered rebels melted away during last week's assault on Padang, a high military source in Jakarta reported the Sukarno troops ran into heavy opposition and had advanced only 18 miles from Padang in three days.

Mt. Etna Volcano Becomes Active

CATANIA, Sicily (AP) — Scientists said today a new series of eruptions has burst open two new craters atop Mt. Etna.

The famous old volcano has been increasingly active during the past six months. After a period of quiet it began spewing steam and lava again this week-end.

As yet the cultivated fields and hamlets on the lower slopes of the volcano appeared to be in no danger.

Airliner, Jet Plunge After Crash In Sky

BULLETIN

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A United Airliner with 47 persons aboard collided with a military jet in flight above Las Vegas today, and both planes plunged into mountains about 20 miles from the gambling resort.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A jet plane and a four-engine airliner collided about 15 miles southwest of Las Vegas today, the sheriff's office reported, and both crashed.

One parachute was seen in the air, presumably that of an occupant of the jet plane.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority said the large plane burned after crashing.

The CAA report came from its tower at McCarran Field here. Rescue equipment was dispatched to the crash scene.

The scene is in the area known as Blue Diamond, a sparsely populated mining area.

The nearest town, about eight miles away, is the small town of Blue Diamond.

The collision occurred shortly before 9 a.m. PST, the CAA said. There was no indication of the home base of the military plane or the point of origin of the four-engine craft.

Rain General In East Area

By The Associated Press
Showery weather in widely scattered sections of the country was the outlook today, with a continuation of fairly mild temperatures in most areas.

Heaviest precipitation during the night was in a belt from the lower Great Lakes southwestward across the Ohio Valley and Tennessee and into Mississippi and northern Alabama. Amounts of more than half an inch in a six-hour period were reported throughout the wet area.

The showers and thunderstorms were expected to continue during the day.

U. S. To Push Ike's Open-Sky Proposal

Lodge To Take U. N. Floor As Debate Opens

Gromyko's Charges Against U. S. Held Baseless By McElroy

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States readied a new call in the U.N. Security Council today for the Eisenhower open-sky plan in answer to Soviet denunciation of American nuclear bomber operations in the Arctic.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge and Arkady Sobolev of the Soviet Union were slated to take the floor in the first round of debate.

Will Cite U. S. Record
A U.S. spokesman said Lodge would cite the American disarmament record in denying the Soviet charges and would renew Eisenhower's proposal for mutual U.S.-Soviet aerial inspection.

"We consider it to be an important speech," the spokesman said. "It will rely heavily on our record of trying to reach an agreement with the Russians on mutual inspection and disarmament."

The Soviet complaint calls for "urgent measures to put an end to flights by United States military aircraft armed with atomic and hydrogen bombs in the direction of the frontiers of the Soviet Union." Soviet sources indicated Sobolev would submit a resolution spelling out what urgent measures the Soviet Union wants the Council to take.

Delegates friendly to the United States predicted any strong anti-American resolution would pull only one positive vote — the Soviet Union's. But they conceded that the Soviets might get considerable propaganda mileage out of their charges that probably will occupy two or three Council sessions.

Observers expect Sobolev to carry the debate into such other issues as the Soviet suspension of nuclear bomb tests, the Soviet boycott on U. N. disarmament bodies and East-West exchanges over the proposed summit conference.

Gromyko Aired Charge
Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko made the latest charge Friday. He claimed that U.S. nuclear bombers had made provocative flight across the Arctic toward the Soviet Union. He said a false radar alert could result in the dropping of a bomb and touch off an accidental war.

U.S. Defense Secretary Neil McElroy replied that the U.S. Air Force had perfected a foolproof system to prevent any unintended bomb strike against the Soviet Union. The system sets up definite boundaries beyond which no bomber proceeds, even after starting out on an initial alert, unless a confirming message is received from officials said.

Duel Challenge Law Violation, Dixie Man Held
PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — Buford W. Posey, 32, faced trial today for illegally challenging a newspaper editor to a duel because he didn't like something the paper printed about him.

"I always thought dueling was an honorable Southern custom," Posey said after the charge was filed against him. He said he handed a written challenge to Jack L. Tannehill, editor of the weekly Neshoba Democrat, April 3.

Posey said he would fight the charge before Justice of the Peace Preston Collins and demand a jury trial. He has been free under $500 bond.

'Copter Rescues Boy From Potomac Crag

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 14-year-old boy stranded overnight on a rocky crag in the Potomac River rapids was rescued by Army helicopter today.

He was identified as Roderick John Henderson Jr., of Arlington, Va.

He was taken to a hospital in nearby Bethesda, Md., for a physical checkup.

Apparently terrified at his plight, he twice refused to let rescuers try to remove him to safety last night—once by use of an Army helicopter and a second time by a rope sling handled by two men.

The rescue attempt was called off for the night when the boy wrapped himself in blankets dropped from the helicopter and apparently fell asleep.

Hundreds of persons gathered along the Potomac's banks to watch the attempt to free the youngster from the 25-by-100-foot rock.

At one point, fireman Donald Marshall reached the rock and talked with the boy, but in the excitement Marshall said he forgot to obtain his name. He told Marshall he and two buddies had gone canoeing in the Potomac yesterday but had lost their paddles.

While his friends swam to safety, Marshall quoted him, the boy was swept over a nearby dam. Uninjured, he related, he made it to the crag.

Mystery Object With Fiery Tail Spotted In Sky

ATLANTA (AP) — A strange bullet-like object with a fiery tail was sighted in at least six states last night as it streaked high across the Southeastern sky. An astronomer said it probably was a giant meteor.

Newspapers and radio stations were flooded with calls. Several observers said the object appeared to disintegrate and fall toward the earth.

The Atlanta Weather Bureau said it had reports of the object as far north as Martinsburg, W. Va., and Corbin, Ky., and as far south as 20 miles north of Albany, in south Georgia.

Other reports said the object was seen in Alabama, Mississippi, and Tennessee.

British Use 'Gang' System In Drive To Stop Smoking

LONDON (AP)—Quitting smoking? It's easier as a gang enterprise than it is for one unhappy man trying on his own, insists Britain's National Society of Non-smokers.

The organization is inviting the addicts to make a big heave-ho together, lean on each other and exchange strength when the flesh weakens.

The technique resembles that of Alcoholics Anonymous. The society has no magic method. It relies on will power.

"But it does seem to be easier when men and women make the great effort together, giving each other moral and pepping up the feeble," said the Rev. Hubert V. Little, a Baptist clergyman who is secretary of the society.

"Our method is to give pep talks, encourage social contacts among folks with a common weakness and arrange interviews with physicians who have volunteered their services.

"The movement has been stimulated, of course, by evidence that there is an association between smoking and cancer.

"I myself regard smoking without consideration for others as certainly antisocial, and under some circumstances could even be held anti-Christian."

Faces Trial For Perjury Before Jury

Linked To Soviet Spy Ring, Had Job In Harvard Agency

BOSTON (AP) — The FBI announced today the arrest in suburban Brookline of Mark Zborowski, 50, on perjury charges growing out of the FBI's investigation of a Soviet espionage ring involving Jack Soble and associates.

Zborowski, reported by the FBI as employed at Harvard University since last July, will be arraigned today before a U.S. commissioner.

A Harvard spokesman said Zborowski is a research assistant in social anthropology in the Department of Public Health Practice.

Came Here In 1941
FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the arrest was on the basis of a federal warrant issued in New York Friday charging Zborowski with perjury resulting from his testimony before a federal grand jury.

Hoover identified Zborowski as Russian-born. He came to this country in 1941 and six years later became an American citizen.

The involvement of Zborowski with the Sobles is a development in the FBI scrutiny of secret activities of Vassili Zoubin, who reportedly was a general in the NKVD—Russian secret police.

Soble, his wife, Myra, and Jacob Albam were arrested by the FBI in New York Jan. 25, 1957, on conspiracy charges to commit espionage as members of a Soviet espionage ring. All pleaded guilty and have been sentenced.

While testifying before a Senate Internal Security subcommittee in 1956, Zborowski admitted carrying out assignments for the NKVD in France in the 1930s. He denied he had been an espionage agent for the Russians since coming to America.

A background data sheet said Zborowski reportedly is a native of Uman, in the Soviet Union and was born in January, 1908.

While he was a youth his parents moved to Poland. Later he moved to France, arriving there about 1928. He was educated at the University of Cannes, at Rouen, France, and at the University of Grenoble in France. He also received a degree in ethnology from the Sorbonne in Paris.

Naturalized In 1947
Continuing, the FBI said: "Zborowski sailed from Lisbon, Portugal, in 1941 and arrived in the United States on Dec. 29, 1941. On June 30, 1947, he became a naturalized American citizen in New York City.

"Since his arrival in this country, Zborowski has been employed as night foreman in a metal products firm and has conducted research in contemporary culture at Columbia University.

"From 1949 to 1951 he was an anthropologist with the American Jewish Committee and from 1951 to 1954 conducted research on a project under a grant from the U.S. Public Health Service. In 1954, 1955, and 1956, Zborowski conducted research at a New York City Veterans Administration hospital under another grant. Since July, 1957, he has been employed at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

"He has resided in the New York City and Boston, Mass., areas since his arrival in America. Zborowski was married in 1937 and has one son."

Crazed Man Admits He Shot Nuns

Father Of Two Angered After Suggestions Ignored

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — "I wanted to kill some nuns and priests."

That, police said, was the explanation offered by a 24-year-old father of two who burst into a convent Saturday night and wounded three nuns with a shotgun.

They said Louis Felipe Marrero signed a statement in which he admitted shooting the nuns and turning the area around St. Joachim's convent and school into a battleground as he fought off police and National Guardsmen for more than an hour.

The youth, who spoke of seeing visions of the Virgin Mary, finally slipped from the building and walked to the Delaware River in blocks away.

He got into a rowboat and crossed over to Pennsylvania, where he surrendered to a guard at the Fairless works of the U.S. Steel Corp.

Mercer County Prosecutor Stanley E. Ruikowski said Marrero would not fight extradition. He said the youth would be brought here and charged with atrocious assault with intent to kill.

The prosecutor quoted Marrero as saying he had sent a series of suggestions to such prominent Catholics as Bishop Fulton J. Sheen and then became resentful when his suggestions were ignored.

Among other things, Marrero suggested a religious medal for spacemen in the U.S. armed forces and also sent Bishop Sheen a letter in which he said he

Associated Press Cites Bad News Must Be Aired

NEW YORK (AP)—The government and press, radio and television have a duty to report the facts—unfavorable as well as favorable—directors of The Associated Press said today.

They cited the business recession and failure of the first Vanguard satellite missile as examples of unfavorable news that should not be suppressed.

"It would be a disservice to emphasize bad news out of proportion, but it would be unthinkable to attempt to suppress news of any kind," the directors said in their annual report.

"Nothing could be better calculated to destroy public confidence quickly and completely."

The report, read at the AP annual membership meeting in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, said, "The strength of democracy lies in an informed people."

The directors noted that the launching of two Soviet Sputniks was followed by a clamor for the United States to match the Soviets.

"With much advance notice and full news coverage, the attempt was made in December to launch the Vanguard—and it failed," the directors said.

"Both the armed services and the news media were blamed by some critics for creating a spectacle of the failure and injuring the United States in the eyes of the world. We believe this criticism shortsighted."

"A totalitarian government can release only the good news and hide its failures. In a free country, it is the duty of the government—in this case the armed services, press, radio and television, to report the facts, good and bad."

Of the reporting of the business recession, the directors' report said: "As increased unemployment, slackening business and other factors added up to a recession, some individuals suggested seriously that news media had accelerated or even caused the downturn by reporting unfavorable facts."

"Here again the function of a free press in a free country is misunderstood."

The directors said, "Associated Press coverage has provided what the public has a right to expect—thorough, fair and factual reporting."

Mining Mishap Deaths Decline

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States coal mines reported fewer accidental deaths during March than in any other month since the Bureau of Mines started keeping records in 1912.

Bureau Director Marling J. Ankeny said 14 mine fatalities were reported last month, eclipsing the previous monthly low of 22 in October 1957. He said 32 deaths were reported for February, when man-hours of exposure were comparable.

The 14 deaths, reported by mine operators and state agencies, included 11 at bituminous operations and three at anthracite mines.

Virginia Highway Toll Rises To 1957 Figure

Virginia's 1958 highway toll stood today at 213, the same count on this date last year.

Ezra Pound Career Had Rather Unusual Aspects

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fifty years ago Ezra Pound was fired from his teaching job at Wabash College for being too much the bohemian. It was a time of sterility, soothing syrup and bleak puritanism in American literature.

He protested and wanted to correct it. To do it, he left the America he grew up in and went to Europe. He spent the rest of his life there calling the mass of Americans dolts.

Last week in federal court he heard a judge dismiss a treason charge against him because doctors said he was hopelessly insane—although not the kind to hurt anyone.

Photographers wanted a picture. He posed with his collar open, his shirttails sticking out, a beat-up black felt hat on his head and a yellow scarf around his neck. He was still the bohemian, but dilapidated now, and terribly tired-looking at 72.

What had happened in those 50 years? He had become a famous poet; a tremendous good and creative force in literature; a benefactor to many artists; and, because he broadcast Fascist propaganda from Italy during World War II.

English literature is the greater for his having been alive. The debt to him is not so much for his own poetry—moments of brilliance amid acres of obscurity and incoherence—as for his creative influence.

He meant his great work to be his cantos. He worked on them for decades. An epic on the human comedy, he called them. Critic Edmund Wilson dismissed them as a "monument . . . to a kind of poetic bankruptcy."

But Carl Sandburg acknowledged years ago that Pound had "done the most of living men to incite new impulses in poetry."

This was the creative influence which Pound asserted in many ways and on many people.

By driving for new forms of expression: by breaking down in this country frozen or prudish barriers to the publication of new and original work; by his advice to other artists and the financial help and audience he got for them; and by the self-discipline he could impose on himself entirely.

These were some of the men he helped in one way or another: James Joyce, William Butler Yeats, D. H. Lawrence, Robert Frost, T. S. Eliot, Ernest Hemingway.

There was an adolescence in Pound. Critic Malcolm Cowley, who visited him in Paris in 1923, quoted Pound as saying he wrote to shock the public. The recognition he got in this country was very limited, and late.

Perhaps this desire to shock explains why much he wrote, apparently in the belief it was daring and unconventional, was only banal. Perhaps that psychological immaturity explains in part the lifelong insistence upon the appearance of bohemian revolt.

History may regard Pound not so much as an artist himself but what he set out to be at Wabash: a teacher.

Three Brothers Found Drowned, Dog Leads Hunt

GOLDSBORO, N. C. (AP)—A bloodhound led a 100-man searching party to the bodies of three young brothers early today. The boys drowned in a sandhole, the second triple-death tragedy to strike the family in five months.

The drowning victims were Johnny, 13; Earl, 10, and Danny, 8. Their father, Mr. J. B. Evans, 38, children of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Evans. The bodies were found a few feet apart in deep water.

The boys' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jethro Evans, and an aunt, Mrs. Gilbert Jones, were killed last November by three shotgun blasts at their rural home.

Senate Post Appointment Draws Blast

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Two friends of the late Sen. W. Kerr Scott (D-NC) have spoken out bitterly against the man chosen by Gov. Luther Hodges to take Scott's place in the Senate.

B. Everett Jordan of Saxapahaw, textile manufacturer and at one time a Scott political associate, received the appointment Saturday. Scott died last Wednesday after a heart attack.

The Jordan selection drew quick praise from Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. and John D. Lawkins Jr., state Democratic chairman, but brought a strong attack from Terry Sanford of Fayetteville and Ben Roney, Scott's administrative assistant.

Both Sanford and Roney suggested that Hodges had named Jordan to hold the Senate seat only until 1960, when Hodges' term as governor will expire. Before Scott's death last week, Hodges had been mentioned often as a possible candidate for the Senate in 1960.

The governor and Jordan declined comment.

Press Honors Robert McLean

NEW YORK (AP)—Newspapers of the United States and Canada paid tribute today to Robert McLean, recently retired president of The Associated Press, for his years of dedication to honest and factual reporting of the news.

He responded at the AP annual luncheon by expressing hope that the spread of accurate information would help to build understanding between peoples and comity between nations.

McLean, president of the Philadelphia Bulletin, served for almost 20 years as president of the AP, worldwide newsgathering cooperative. He continues as a director, a post to which he was first elected in 1924.

Publishers and editors from across the nation, representing the AP membership, joined at the luncheon in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in hailing McLean for fostering high standards of objective reporting.

Five Aged Women Die As Car Plunges In Lake

NEWTON, Mass. (AP)—Five women residents of a nursing home—the youngest 80, the oldest 96—were trapped and drowned in a driverless automobile yesterday when the car slipped its brakes, rolled down a grade and into a lake.

William L. Bruce, 34, an assistant dean at Harvard Law School, dived after the car but could not open its doors because of water pressure. He said the women inside "looked terrified—numb with fear."

He said that for five minutes, as the air-filled car slowly settled into the water, the women fought desperately to escape and stared through the closed windows in horror as four men tried to free them.

One of the victims was Mrs. Ina Dowling, 85, who precipitated a Miami court scandal in 1954. Her accusations that a Florida court had mishandled her husband's two-million-dollar estate led to grand jury inquiries into court officers' conduct and to the impeachment of a judge, later acquitted.

The others were identified as Mrs. Gertrude Cummings, 85; Mrs. Hattie Gordon, 96; Mrs. Es-ther Ross, 92; and Mrs. Dohilda Hinrichs, 80.

"The women were frozen with fear," Bruce said. "One woman had her face pressed against the back seat of the car—blocking out the sight of the rising water."

Mrs. Kenneth Watson, 58, owner of the nursing home, said she was about to drive the five women on a ride into the country when the accident occurred at 3:40 p.m. The car belonged to Mrs. Doyle.

Police quoted Mrs. Watson as saying: "I had just helped women into the car and was going back into the house after a coat. I shut the door on the driver's side and left the motor running and the brakes on."

Mrs. Watson said that as she walked away the car lurched forward and moved down the driveway. She ran after it but couldn't get near it.

Police guessed that one of the women may accidentally have shifted the automatic transmission lever into drive position.

The car knocked down a 3-inch flagpole, plunged 30 feet down an embankment, rolled further and took another 30-foot dip into Crystal Lake. It settled in 12 feet of water, three car lengths from had her face pressed against the shore.

Parent Group Seeks Better School Care

Medical Provisions, Staff Boost Sought For W. Va. Retarded

ST. MARYS, W. Va. (AP) — A group of Parents with children at the West Virginia Training School here have set up the nucleus of an organization to push for better medical care and a more adequate staff at the institution.

Fifteen parents, meeting Sunday at the school for mentally retarded youngsters held open house, named Mrs. Robert Blair, wife of a Parkersburg salesman, as temporary chairman of the new group.

"Large companies and various factions have lobbyists in Charleston. Why shouldn't we go to the state officials to push for adequate care for these children?" Blair asked the assembled parents.

The new organization plans to send letters to parents of the 353 children in the institution, inviting them to a May 11 meeting here to set up a more permanent organization.

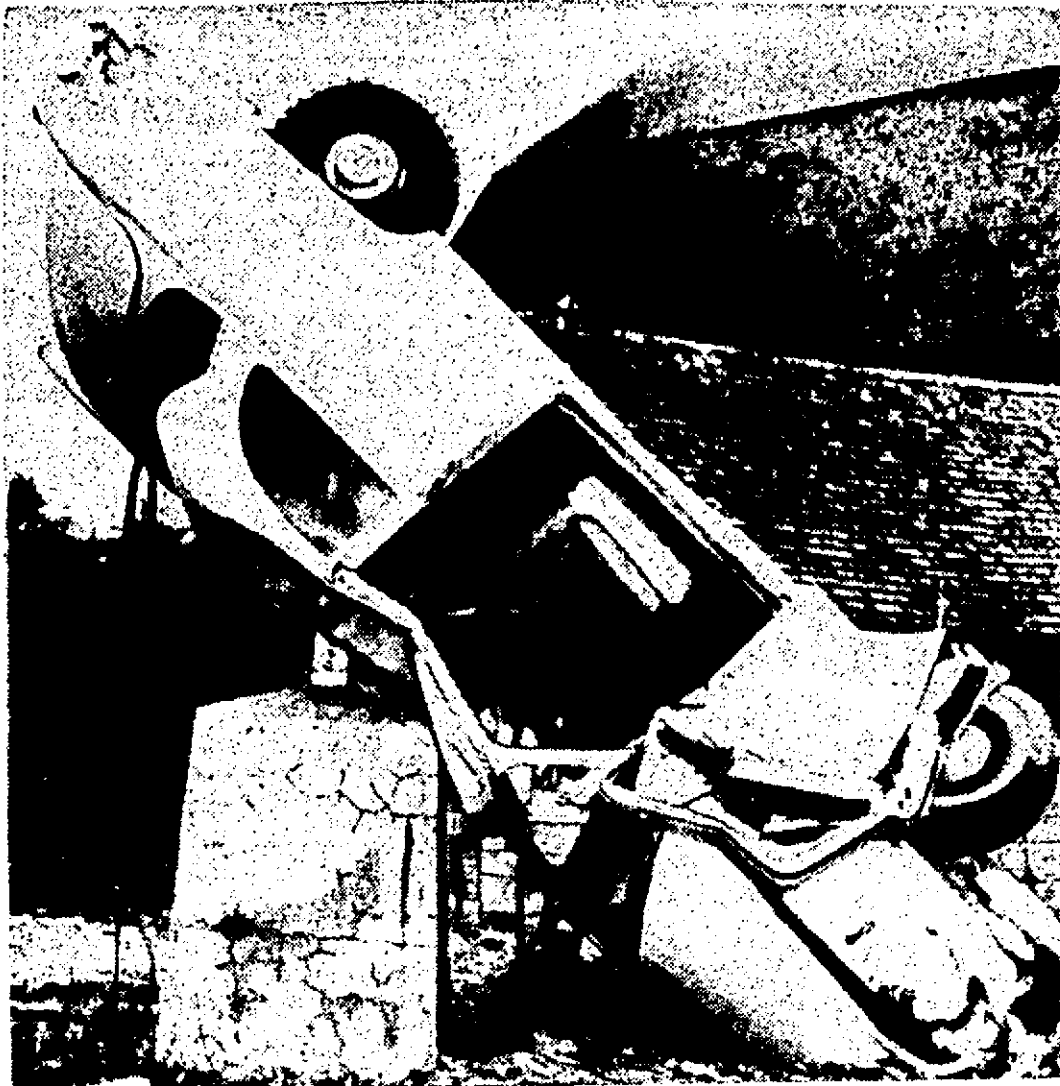

Blair criticized conditions at the school, but did not blame the current small staff for what he called poor medical care and inadequate facilities.

He said the school needs more money, and an organization of about 700 parents scattered over the state could present a strong appeal to the Department of Mental Health, the Board of Public Works, the Legislature and to the governor.

Dr. Leopoldo Hernandez, acting superintendent of the institution, said that from the time he assumed his duties last year until two weeks ago, the school was operated with a medical staff of one—himself.

Although there is authority for three nurses, a psychiatrist as superintendent and a general practitioner, Dr. Hernandez said, he has been able to add only two nurses — and both of those in the past two weeks.

SPIKED CAR—Artiere Martinez, 20, of Ogden, Utah, was killed when this car went out of control and spiked itself on the Canada-United States boundary marker at Hamlin, near Grand Falls, New Brunswick, Canada. The two men, both airmen, were stationed at Limestone, Maine. (AP Photofax)

Pupils View France With Funny Eyes

By ROBERT HORIGUCHI
PARIS — (INS) — The U. S. Air Force has taken a schoolchild's look at France and reaped a barrelful of laughs.

Among them was that sparked by a boy's remark that: "If the Venus de Milo had arms, they would probably be trying to cover something that should be covered."

This and other rib-tickling intelligence is contained in scrapbooks made by the 4,300 students of the nine elementary schools and one high school operated in France for children of Air Force personnel.

Forty of the best scrapbooks, rated not on their humor but on their educational value and for their understanding of France, will be entered in a command-wide contest at the U. S. Air Force headquarters in Europe at Wiesbaden, Germany.

The aim of these books is to find how well American children have absorbed the culture of their host nations and what their reactions are to different ways of life.

Some of the findings are pitiful. For example Bernadette McClain has found that:

"The French blindfold their cows before they kill them."
Mary Boyd notes that:
"In our village, the French stamp the grapes with their feet... they make the wines of the grapes."

On the eating side, Thomas Courtney found that French desserts are not as sweet as American, while Melody Reimer established that "snails don't taste like anything."

Patty Boone had this to say about Mona Lisa's famous smile: "She looks like something is funny, but is not funny to her."

The children appear to have taken to heart the injunction given their fathers that every U. S. serviceman should act like an ambassador.

Doyle Dean remarked: "Children are better ambassadors because we are not afraid to speak to French children and they are not afraid to talk to us. Grownups are afraid to talk to grownups."

Rochelle Reiner takes a more practical view. She states: "Children are good ambassadors because if we give the French a lot of American beer they will like America more."

Woman's Baby Born In Auto

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A maternity nurse and her baby girl were reported doing well at Allegheny General Hospital today after the mother gave birth to the infant unattended in the back seat of a car.

Mrs. Mona Lee Fratz, assigned to Allegheny General's maternity ward, gave birth to the baby Saturday while her husband was trying to get through heavy traffic to the hospital. They arrived at the hospital 10 minutes later.

Election Set Tomorrow In Salisbury

SALISBURY (AP) — Salisbury voters tomorrow elect a mayor and two city councilmen for four-year terms.

Running for mayor are two businessmen, Jeremiah Valliant, 47, and Milton L. Pope, 61, Republican.

Valliant has served in city council for seven years, the last three as president. He is a native of Oxford, Talbot County.

Pope ran against Mayor Rollie Hastings four years ago and lost by less than 200 votes.

Running for the two vacancies in the five-man council are Democrats William E. Wyatt Jr., seeking reelection, and Joseph J. Long, and Republicans Dr. Verdin S. Cantrell and Fred Small.

Registered voters number about 6,400.

Soldier Drowns In Boat Mishap

BOW, N. H. (AP) — Ralph E. Fout, stationed at Nahant, Mass., drowned Saturday and a second soldier was rescued when their boat overturned in the Merrimack River.

The driver of a police ambulance spotted Fout's companion, Pfc. Jerry A. Parker, in the river and was able to rescue him.

Both soldiers were attached to Battery C, 605th AAA, at Nahant.

Those injured were described in fair condition. Mrs. Sofocleous was shot in the back of the head and Nick Plakitis in the temple. Police took a man into custody.

Dread Disease Fatal To Girl

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Linda Darlene Blount, 3, of Watson, R.D. 1, W. Va., died early today in Children's Hospital of encephalitis, commonly called sleeping sickness.

Linda became ill last week. She was flown here yesterday from the Fairmont (W. Va.) Hospital in a West Virginia Conservation Commission plane.

State Teacher Head Defends Questionnaire

Claimed Those Sent Candidates Were To Give People Views

BALTIMORE (AP) — A state teachers association official has defended himself against criticism by Gov. McKeldin for sending out a questionnaire to candidates running for the State Legislature.

Milton C. Raver, executive secretary of the Maryland State Teachers' Assn., explained that similar surveys had been made in previous elections. It was done, Raver added, "as a service to teachers, parents, and other interested citizens who wish to know the candidates' stands on current issues in public education."

One of the questions put to the House and Senate candidates was how they stand on a proposed $400 additional pay raise for teachers.

Raver said that although the returns were not complete, many of the candidates had returned the forms and written to thank the association for the opportunity to express their views.

The General Assembly last winter passed a $400 pay raise bill for teachers over Gov. McKeldin's veto. It is to be financed through a tax of three cents on a pack of cigarettes.

Raver said the candidates were asked if they would support legislation to:

1. Grant a second increase of $400 in state aid for teachers' salaries to provide a new state minimum of $4,000-$5,000, with the cost of the increase running about 12 million dollars. Raver said this represented the remaining $400 of the $800 requested by the State Board of Education last year.

2. Increase state aid to reduce class size by building more schools.

3. Expand facilities at the state teachers colleges to train more teachers.

4. Raise salaries of faculty members at the five state teachers colleges.

Raver has commended the law in the "foresight" in enacting the salary bill. In another section of the statement the association released yesterday, it pointed out that 21 of the 24 boards of education in the state's subdivisions have recommended new salary scales for teachers. They are using the extra money voted by the General Assembly.

This was also a rebuttal to the governor's statement predicting the counties would use the money to reduce their share of teachers' salary expenses.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

The Boaster

THE SOVIET leaders have always been great boasters, but nobody seems to do quite as sweeping a job of it as Nikita Khrushchev. His predecessors in power, and many of his current associates, never have felt bashful about claiming military and scientific superiority. We all remember their boasts of having invented virtually everything since the wheel.

BUT KHRUSHCHEV has beat them all by asserting that Russia will outdo the United States in feeding, clothing and sheltering its population. Said he: "We'll see who eats better and who has more clothes." For a country as backward as the Soviet Union is in some of these departments, that is indeed tall talk. The consumer, the ordinary citizen, the man who is supposed to be the object of the Communists' massive efforts, has at all times been the forgotten man of Russia.

IT'S BEEN GUNS instead of butter, shoddy clothes at outrageous prices, housing so incredibly cramped and rickety that it has made vast slums of cities like Moscow and Leningrad. In fact, many experts think it wholly fair to say that, from the ordinary citizen's standpoint, the Russian economic system amounts to planned depression. Nevertheless, we don't have to be smug about our present tremendous margin over Russia in the matter of individual living standards, any more than we should have been in military and scientific fields. If we try to coast on our laurels, Khrushchev and company might make those boasts come true.

FOR ANYONE who doubts that the Russians are trying to get a foothold in Latin America, there's new proof. The Kremlin even arranged to have Sputnik II make a trail of fire across Brazil before going down.

France Shows The Way

THE MOST strongly protectionist country in Europe is reconsidering its position. France, long noted for its dislike of trade competition from abroad, has decided to join the European Common Market. Thereby the French promise, within 12 or 15 years, to eliminate tariffs on goods from Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. Thus a great source of friction that might produce war will be eliminated, and a long step will be taken toward a single West European state. The liberal outlook indicated by this action contrasts with the bitter opposition, in this country, to the renewal of the Trade Agreements Act that has been in force for over 20 years. It is now challenged by a few industries that begrudge any measure looking toward better international relations if it seems to threaten their profits. The prosperity of a single industry would be dearly bought if it depended on damaging the economic health of our allies.

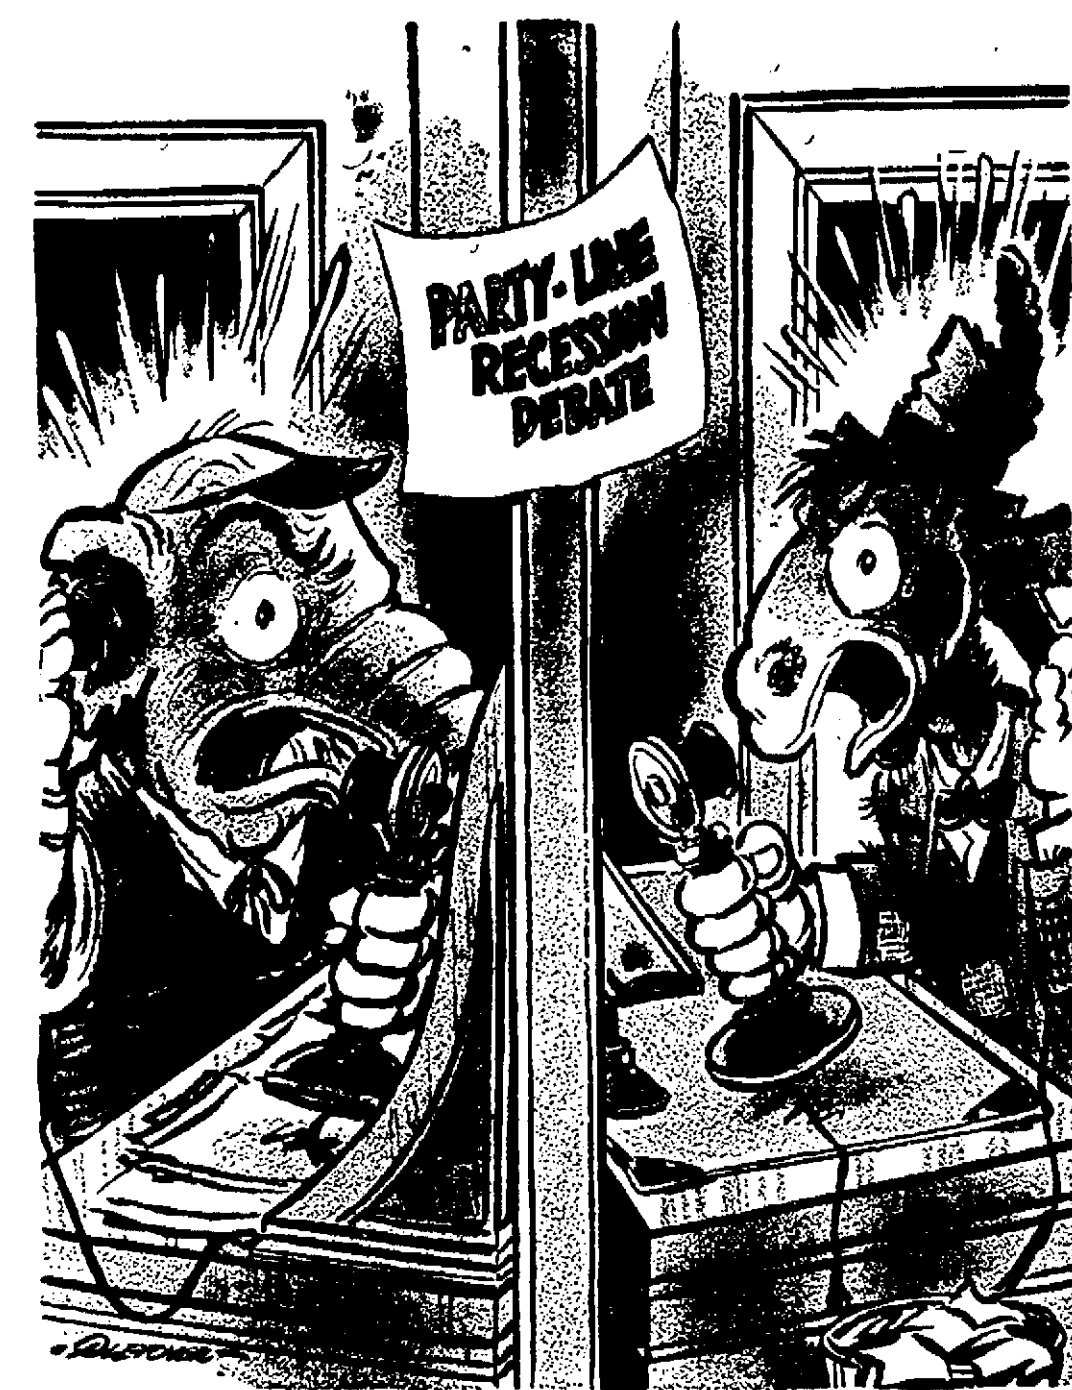

DEALERS report that 1,200,000 switchblade knives are sold in the United States annually, most of them going to juveniles. The younger generation must have a lot of whittling to do.

Foul Plot

LITTLE NOTICED during the excitement of the opening of the 1958 baseball season was a judicial ruling made a few days ago that may well serve as an important precedent toward preservation of the ancient right of caveat baseballis—or "Duke! I've got it!" Seems an irate Milwaukee woman, who had been beamed by a foul ball at County Stadium, was suing the Braves and the county on charges that the ball park was not a safe place for an innocent and unsuspecting fan. In his 17-page decision, Judge John L. Coffey dismissed the suit, saying that a ruling for the plaintiff might necessitate screening the entire park for protection of the spectators, thus ruining "the excitement and enthusiasm" of chasing a foul ball in the stands. In sum, it could "doom" the national pastime. Let the game resume.

BEEF PRICES are high, and going higher. This, especially with employment and incomes lower, seems to be something to beef about.

Meyner Still Needs Support Of Labor

WASHINGTON—Governor Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, a leading Democratic Presidential possibility, has survived an important challenge to his leadership but he is by no means out of the political woods.

The returns in the United States Senatorial primary show plainly that he does not have command of the state party organization to anything like the degree commonly supposed. The returns show the nature of the primary campaign show also that he faces a major job of reconciliation with labor, which is an important source of Democratic power in New Jersey.

Both are vital to him in any contest for the Presidential nomination. A candidate obviously needs near-solid backing from his own state organization.

THE INFLUENCE of labor in a national convention spreads over the delegations generally, especially among Democrats who send so many labor delegates from all parts of the country to such conventions. New Jersey labor in particular has influence with what labor-minded delegates will do in the New York and Pennsylvania groups.

A curbstone opinion among many New Jersey Democrats is that Meyner's man, former Representative Harrison Williams Jr., won the primary only because State Conservation Commissioner Joseph E. McLean entered the race over Meyner's opposition. McLean ran a poor third but got about 60,000 votes. Williams won over Hoboken Mayor John J. Grogan by about 14,000 votes. It is being said that McLean got his votes chiefly from Grogan, not Williams.

PROOF OF that opinion must await a war-by-war check by state experts. What is incontestable is that Grogan piled up a 72,000 plurality in Hudson county, the strongest area of Democratic strength in the state.

Furthermore Grogan, president of the National Shipbuilders Union, got the endorsement of the state CIO-AFL.

Williams, who had a pro-labor record in the House, can confidently expect labor's backing against Republican Representative Robert W. Keane, an easy winner of the GOP primary. But the Hudson county fence-mending ahead of Meyner and Williams is another matter.

NEW JERSEY is traditionally Republican; part of Meyner's appeal nationally has been his ability to attract voters of both parties for two terms in the State House. What happens in the Williams-Keane race will in part depend on recession trends this fall, but Williams is the underdog.

The question where Meyner went wrong is answered by a source friendly to him in three words. "In the beginning." This observer felt that the Governor showed indecisiveness when the rival ambitions and Hudson county difficulties appeared, whereas he should have got party leaders together and cracked a few heads. Meyner finally named Williams as his choice and got 19 of the state's 21 leaders to go along.

His difficulty is that populous Hudson was among the missing two.

BERNARD Shanley, former appointment secretary to President Eisenhower, appears in a Grogan-esque role in the GOP primary. He lost to Keane by 24,000 votes, but various state experts feel he would have won had not Robert Morris, former Chief counsel to the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, siphoned off 72,134 conservative Republican votes. Most of those would, it is said, prefer Shanley to Keane, more conservative, though both men ran as Eisenhower Republicans.

The returns indicate little recession in politics, since all candidates promised to help, help, help, in their different ways.

Nixon To Get Idea Of New Argentine Head

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Toughest selling job which Vice President Nixon will have on his South American good-will mission will be in the Argentine. He is scheduled to arrive in Buenos Aires April 30 and leave May 4. It will be his longest stop.

That will give Nixon three full days, parts of two others and four nights in which to establish good-neighbor relations with new Argentine President Dr. Arturo Frondizi.

He is described as a tall, somewhat gaunt and humorless university professor, now nearing 50. He is considered smart. He is also considered flexible. His political record shows him to be something of an opportunist.

DR. FRONDISI was first elected to the Argentine Congress 12 years ago as an anti-Peronista. He was his Radical (middle of the road) party's vice-presidential candidate, opposing Peron. He survived politically by being Peron's loyal opposition and Peron threw him in jail only a couple of times.

In spite of this, Dr. Frondizi had Peron's support in this year's presidential elections. He also had support from the Communists, the Nationalists and his own intransigent or left wing half of the Radical party. The Catholics did not oppose him, though they did not endorse him officially.

Nobody knows whether the new president is anti-American or not. He did not criticize the U.S. during his campaign, nor has he done so since. He has said nothing pro-U.S., either. This gives an idea of Nixon's subtle assignment.

The hope is that President Frondizi will do the right things for his country. If he has an agreement with Peron, it could be repudiated. Few people think Peron will come back. But if his ideas are followed, the worst can happen.

UNLESS some old Peron policies are reversed, the country could go broke before the end of the year.

The trouble stems primarily from the fact that Peron used most of Argentina's 1.5-billion-dollar reserves to buy up and nationalize railroads, telephone power, and other foreign investments. Reserves are now down to 200 million. Last year the loss on foreign exchange was 300 million dollars.

Petroleum products imports alone cost the Argentine about 300 million dollars a year. The country is believed to have sufficient undeveloped oil reserves for all its own needs. But the old Peron line was that they should be developed only by local capital. The result was that nothing was ever done.

Sentiment on this is now said to be changing. There is some possibility that foreign capital will again be invited in to develop the country's resources and so help put the Argentine financial house in order.

THE ECONOMIC situation is worsened by inflation from Peron's wage and subsidized food policies.

The Argentine used to export over half of its agricultural products. That's down to 20 per cent now.

It is significant that U.S. Export-Import Bank President Samuel C. Waugh will accompany Nixon to South America.

Total U.S. government credits granted the Argentine through Ex-Im Bank are 200 million dollars. Of this, 103 million have been disbursed, 42 million have been repaid.

The lines of credit granted include the following:

For financing purchases of U.S. equipment, 125 million dollars in 1950. For tungsten and other mining development, five million dollars in 1951. For a steel mill,

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — There was a fire in the Museum of Modern Art the other day, as anyone who can read knows, and after watching that for two hours (like any dedicated fire buff) I walked up Fifth Avenue and whisked up 15 floors to call on another fire.

Her name is Elizabeth Nightingale Graham, a farm girl from Ontario. You know her as a lady of vast fortune, vast enterprises, a fabulous racing stable and, almost surely, in your bathroom or on your dressing table there lies, right now, one of her products. She is known as Elizabeth Arden.

MRS. GRAHAM has a piled-up explosion of blonde hair on her head and is restless. She paces up and down her enormous, pale green office and, occasionally, stops to twirl a porcelain container which, a year or so hence, will be sold to you with a cream or an unguent in it.

Her desk, large enough to school horses on its surface, is a strewn of these packagings. There must be 60 or 70 or even 100 of them there. She likes to live with future packagings and does not believe in making snap judgments on them.

The containers, some cardboard in colors, some porcelain, some crystal, stand there week after week and, after awhile, she finds that six or seven have held her interest longest. These are the ones the company will use at some future date.

WHEN WE finished talking, in about an hour, she said she wanted me to see her new exhibition room for men's toiletries.

"It's stunning," she said. I told her I knew it was, because a friend of mine, George Lloyd, had designed it. We walked slowly down a long hall between rows of hard-working young women, each as handsome as a new peach, and came to the room.

It is a high-ceilinged oblong with crystal chandeliers, bright Chinese red walls covered with material in the same color and expanses of glass on which repose packagings of men's things: soaps, scents and so on. The packages are in flat black and dull gold, a pleasant combination, and they have a solid feel and look. They have simple lines and dignity.

"Great mistakes have been made in packaging toiletries for men," she said, hefting a package as one hefts a giant pepper-grinder. "They have come out in all hues and in porcelain and with gilt metal clasp on top and all sorts of tasteless gimmickery. Men do not like that kind of packaging. They like simple, direct, to the point packaging in subdued, gentlemanly combinations. I'm happy to say we never tried to foist nonsense on them. They would have boot-ed us out of business."

WE WENT BACK to the private office and the jumbles of porcelain and glass.

"I wonder why no one has ever told the truth about fillies and racing?" she said. "I have over 70 fillies at Maine Chance Farm and I know, I know as I live, that no rider should ever raise a whip to one or no stable boy ever speak roughly to one. Fillies need affection, need to know their handlers love them. They need an arm around their necks and a soft voice to tell them they are held in affection."

"I have drilled it into trainers, handlers, riders and stable boys: don't ever handle a filly harshly or speak harshly to her. The poor little things fold up under scolding. Stallions are different. I'm proud to say that the stallions at Maine Chance are great gentlemen. But you can speak on a manly basis to a stallion. Fillies need love and soothing."

"WHY, THERE was a filly I loved, I simply loved her, and she began not to do well racing. I suspected they had been rough to her, jerking a bridle or speaking harshly. I went out to the stables and she whinnied fit to split space. A loud, desperate whinny."

"I went over to her and fondled her and talked softly to her and she gentled right down and became a beloved child again. I saw her go out to the next race a changed filly and she won without half-trying. She needed to know that someone loved her. Which is why I should not be in the breeding business. I can't stand selling them. It stabs me every time."

We sat and talked a little while more and she walked out to the elevators with me, talking about horses. About the gigantic business of cosmetics and toiletries—nothing. She won't talk about it much.

"You asked in there," she said, nodding back toward her office, "when I became fond of horses. I was 35 months old, just short of three years. I rode one back on the farm in Ontario. Since that day, night and day."

Slick Boy From Philly

WASHINGTON—I like lawyers and the way they sling the language around. When they get in an argument among themselves they can prove practically anything, except to each other. Philadelphia lawyers are especially good arguers. So are U.S. Senators from Arkansas.

Join me at the press table in the red-carpeted, marble-walled, crystal-chandeliered Caucus Room where John Rogers Carroll, a distinguished Philadelphia lawyer, is representing some not-so-distinguished officers of Teamsters' Local 107 in the City of Brotherly Love.

COUNSELLOR Carroll said he was being paid his fee by the union, but he was here defending its officers who are charged among many other things with making $25,000 of dues money disappear. When asked to explain, his clients sought refuge in the Fifth Amendment. This irritated the Senators investigating labor rackets.

"If you're getting paid out of union funds, you're supposed to represent the members," suggested Sen. John McClellan.

Solicitor Carroll said he begged to differ; he had an opinion from the Philadelphia Bar Association, saying his ethics were up to par. Sen. McClellan said he wasn't 60 million dollars in 1955. For transport equipment to rehabilitate railroads and highways, 85 million dollars in 1956. For various other private enterprises, 15 million dollars in 1956.

Of this last amount, six million dollars have been allocated for a paper mill. The balance is still under negotiation for various private enterprises.

interested in documents from those other Philadelphia lawyers.

"THIS IS THE most peculiar situation morally that I ever heard of," suggested Sen. Irving M. Ives. Barrister Carroll said, in language considerably more legalistic, that it was not, either.

Sen. John Kennedy, another lawyer, took over. He said a lawyer couldn't serve two masters. He added that somebody said this 2,000 years ago.

Counsellor Carroll got out his letter from the Committee on Professional Guidance of the Philadelphia lawyers. He read it aloud and the language was downright complicated. It said, in effect, that it was all right for attorney Carroll to collect his pay from the union and still represent its officers, so long as he believed they were honest. If he ever should decide his clients were crooks, the Philadelphia lawyers said, then he should reconsider his position.

"BY NOW YOU must be aware of the fact that $25,000 either has been misappropriated, or stolen," suggested Sen. Kennedy.

Lawyer Carroll said he was aware of the fact that this was what the Senators hoped to prove, but they still hadn't proven it to him. He said he considered his well-muscled customers innocent.

Sen. Kennedy said yes, but they refused to explain what they did with the $25,000. Counsellor Carroll said they'd already explained to the 14,000 members; they didn't have to explain to the Senators. He said the Fifth Amendment is for use by the innocent as well as by the guilty.

SENATOR McClellan by now was fuming. He broke into observe that if the cashier of a bank were charged with stealing from the till, the depositors shouldn't be expected to pay his lawyers.

He said this was exactly the same situation. He said he didn't care what the Philadelphia lawyers claimed. "There can be no moral or legal justification for taking the union's money to defend the officers accused of stealing the union's funds," he added.

COUNSELLOR Carroll said (again in elegant language that defies me) that there was, too, such an argument, so long as he felt his clients were innocent. This went on for some time, but you get the idea. For entertainment, you can't beat a Philadelphia lawyer and an Arkansas Senator. They can even make you forget for a while the original skull-duggeries that brought them into the act.

NEW YORK—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That grandpa and grandma were only half as likely to live to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary as a young couple marrying today. The chances in 1900 that a bridegroom of 25 and a bride of 21 would survive 50 more years was only 123 per 1,000 marriages. Now it's 296 per 1,000.

That the Eskimos have no native word for snow.

That 14 million American men can't swim. But this doesn't explain our own sinking feeling.

That the first hospitals were established in Ceylon five centuries before Christ. Incidentally, the federal government now owns 432 hospitals with a total of more than 184,000 beds.

That there is a hardware dealer in The Bronx named J. Bolts.

That singer Lisa Kirk points out a man "can marry a fashion plate and still not get a nice dish."

THAT SINCE the dawn of time the most popular color for decorating has been red. It's still a prevalent hue in bank balances.

That dogs never had it better, as witness: No pooches are allowed in the giant Meramec Caverns at Stanton, Mo. But the management has set up a special room with toys where the dogs wait in comfort while their owners trudge through the cave.

That job offers for 1958 college graduates are lagging far behind those available to the 1957 class at this time a year ago.

That Belgian actress Monique van Voor- in, depicting the idea that European men are more romantic than Americans, said: "Kisses have no accent."

THAT THE CUSTOM of tipping one's hat has more behind it than male gallantry. As long ago as the Crusades armored knights raised the visor of their helmets in passing to determine whether the other guy was friend or foe.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — At one table in the Turf Club at Laurel Race Track the other day were three beautiful young matrons who rotate as "chairmen" of our most elegant society balls. In between handicapping losers, the Mesdames Kay Topping, Ceci Carusi, and Jane Wheeler lamented over the handicaps they are forced to endure as chairwoman depressives.

Ear-peeping so assiduously that I almost blew a chance to blow two races. I learned from their lamentations that one of their besetting problems is how many concessions to offer in luring VIPs to their glittering jamborees.

Mrs. Carusi, who is chairman this year of the International Ball, which will be held Nov. 7, declared flatly—as she tore up three daily double stiffs—that there will be positively no cut-rates for her affair because the proceeds are to go to the Children's Convalescent Hospital. Even if President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon wish to go they will have to scratch up $30 each.

A HORSE began acting up at the starting gate. Mrs. Wheeler emitted a stricken cry. After the race, the young matrons reverted moodily to a discussion of the Opera Society Ball, which will be held on June 6.

I learned that one of the highly-chair-ished beauties had received a phone call the evening before from Mrs. H. Gates "Lollie" Lloyd, member of an old Philadelphia family, whose husband is currently being intelligent at the Central Intelligence Agency. Mrs. Lloyd said that ticket prices for the Opera Society Ball had been pitched at $15, but that special inducements were in order.

Mrs. Lloyd was asked: "What inducements?"

"Well," she said, "if you bring any Italian the price will be only ten dollars."

"Why any Italian?" she was asked.

"Because," she replied with irrefutable logic, "the ball will be held in the Italian Embassy."

Then she added the super-inducement that — I have since ascertained — is common practice in our VIP-minded community:

"If you bring an ambassador — any ambassador — the price will be only five dollars!"

OUR STATE Department Building is a noble edifice, designed to impress emissaries from foreign lands with our quiet strength and dignity. Emphasis has been placed upon the gracious lobby, because that is the part the visitors see first.

Through it pass ambassadors, heads of missions, and — in increasing numbers — educational groups, and foreign exchange students. Most of them are duly impressed — until they come abreast of the newsstand.

Then their eyes widen with a new kind of wonderment about America. For some inexplicable reason, the State Department newsstand makes more of a display of trash than newsstands in any other Government building in the nation's capital.

The front-of-the-counter display, which smacks the eyes of the visiting students first, consists almost exclusively of the more lurid confession magazines, whodunits with bullet-pierced near-nudes on the covers, and publications devoted to romance on the raw, or rarer.

The covers carry titillating come-ons for the contents within, a few of the more restrained titles being, "Doctor . . . Lover . . . Cheat. He Was All Three," "I Begged Him to Leave Me Alone," "I Had to Have Him—Even Without Marriage."

I wonder where John Foster Dulles buys his reading matter?

PROPERTY VALUE UP — The levy list furnishes some gratifying information to the taxpayers of the county. It shows that property values in Allegheny are increasing, and that in a year of financial stringency and business depression there has been added over a million dollars to the taxable basis of the county. This shows that our business and commercial system is sound to the core.

Fumes Fell Four In Deep Water Well

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP) — Four men were felled by carbon monoxide fumes inside a 40-foot deep water well in Altoona yesterday.

Franklin D. Shannon, 28, of Altoona, R.D. 4, was reported in critical condition at Altoona Hospital. Listed in serious condition there was John R. Forsht, 30, of Altoona, R.D. 1.

Reported in fair condition at Mercy Hospital were Bernard Lafferty, 30, of Altoona, R.D. 4; and Norman Weyant, 32, of Altoona.

Lafferty was the first to collapse when he entered the well to check on what caused a portable pump they were using to clean the well stop. Shannon went in after Lafferty and also collapsed.

Forsht and Weyant went to the aid of the other two and were affected by the fumes but got back to the surface before collapsing. Policemen and firemen eventually got Shannon and Lafferty out.

Another Blast Let Loose At Teacher Bill

Governor Says Many Legislators Red Faced On Tax Issue

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. McKeldin, in another blast at the school lobby, says he regretted seeing legislators "licking the lobby's boots," but he didn't like to see them "getting kicked in the face."

The Legislature overrode the governor's veto of a $400-a-year teacher pay raise. Since then, McKeldin said he has noted with interest, "but not with pleasure," that some counties have decided not to use the proceeds of the state cigarette tax on increased teachers salaries. Instead, he said, they are diverting the money into the county treasuries, and many legislators are red faced.

McKeldin said yesterday the pay raise bill was passed over his veto "despite my repeated warnings that there was no assurance that the cigarette tax money would be used to increase teachers' salaries."

"Now that the tax has been imposed in spite of my objections," said the governor, "I am very strongly of the opinion that its yield should be used as the Legislature intended—to increase the salaries of teachers—and I do mean in addition to the increases previously granted."

The comments were in the fifth of a series of radio talks.

Last week, the governor sharply criticized representatives of the Teachers' Association for circulating a questionnaire asking legislative candidates to take a stand on another $400 pay raise.

McKeldin said, "I'm tired of seeing the state treasury raided under pressures and subterfuges."

What Kind Of Reader Are You?

Here's Way To Get More, Read Faster

By WARD CANNEL
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA) — You're reading this story too slowly. You're not getting enough out of it. You can't get through the whole paper without eye strain or irritation.

You're the average newspaper reader.

Beginning today the Cumberland Evening Times will bring you a series of stories designed to make you a more efficient reader—faster and more understanding of the material you must or want to read.

For you, like most Americans, the facts are:

You will grasp less than 70 per cent of the stories you read—including those that interest you most.

You are reading at the very slow rate of 250 words per minute—not much faster than your talking speed.

You are using only about 20 per cent of your visual capacity—the same capacity you'll tax later in reading your magazines, novels, correspondence or required business material.

These are the findings of the Reading Laboratory, Inc. — a world-wide organization which teaches development reading to people from every walk of life.

The files at their New York offices shows that the people who come to them are:

Students carrying heavy curricula; scientists whose work depends on the amount of technical information they can assimilate; top-level executives who must get through a staggering number of words daily.

In addition, there are people who "just want to keep up" with the barrage of current events and contemporary writings.

"We're not a nation of illiterates," says reading expert Joan Stoddard. "But our reading training stopped at about the sixth grade. Those were the days when we had learned word-by-word skills—and quite useful for the dog's name-is-Spot stories."

In adult life, however, reading is another story. The average business executive or manager has about four hours of important reading daily. This is enough to drive one man to say:

"Next to the dog, the wastebasket is man's best friend."

But even the man who can avoid this heavy load finds only 20 minutes each day for his newspaper reading.

"It should be enough," Miss Stoddard said. "But the average paper reader is fighting a big battle with himself."

To see the fight for yourself, punch a pencil-point hole in a page of your paper and watch the eyes of someone reading a column on the opposite page. You'll see how his eyes move in a series of starts and stops — a habit that makes for slow reading.

"In addition," the reading teacher pointed out, "we are painstakingly thorough readers of both useless and important material. This comes from both a fear and an awe of the printed word. We don't know how to concentrate or cope with a story."

Experts say our minds are far faster than our eyes. If our eyes do not pick up words fast enough, our minds race ahead into distraction with other thoughts.

Increased reading speed without increased comprehension is fruitless, reading teachers explain. Learning both makes us better informed, more at home

Five Injured In Accident North Of City

Woman Fractures Legs; Inexperience Said Wreck Cause

Four persons were hospitalized following a one-car accident last night on Mill Road, off U. S. Route 220, Bedford Road.

Reported in "good" condition at Sacred Heart Hospital are Mrs. Dorothy Ryan, 22, of 230 North Mechanic Street; her son, Richard G. Ryan, four, and Mildred V. Crites, 31, of Miller Road, Ridgeley. Listed in "fair" condition is William Leroy Sawyer, 21, of RD 1, Ridgeley.

Mrs. Ryan suffered possible fractures of both legs, while her son sustained head injuries. The Crites woman suffered an injury to her right knee, and Sawyer was admitted for a possible fractured jaw and left ankle.

Sawyer's wife, Mrs. Nancy J. Sawyer, 18, sustained mouth injuries but was not admitted to the hospital.

Driver of the auto, William Roger Dahl, 20, of 312 Jefferson Street, city, was uninjured, police said. The accident occurred about 6:30 p.m. approximately 100 feet off U.S. Route 220 on Mill Road.

Trooper Charles T. Snow, of the State Police, blames inexperience driving as the cause of the crash.

Dahl was traveling south on Route 220 in the direction of Cumberland and made a left hand turn into Mill Road. He made a wide turn and in doing so ran the car into a slight ditch.

When he pulled back onto the roadway the car careened across the road and struck a utility pole. Trooper Snow said one of the doors of the convertible came open and the child tumbled to the road.

Another child of Mrs. Ryan, who also was a passenger in the car, escaped injury. Dahl will be charged with operating the car without a license and Sawyer will be charged with allowing Dahl to operate his vehicle without a license, police said.

Lions Will Use Special Phone

The Cumberland Lions Club will use a special telephone to handle housing reservations for the Sports Car Races here May 16, 17 and 18.

Leonard Schwab and Braxton Godbey, housing co-chairmen, said people who will have rooms available may call PA 4-4340 to give details.

The greatest need, the committee said, is for rooms for the night of May 17.

The special telephone line will be available also for visitors who wish to find housing accommodations here during the races.

The weekly meeting of the club will be held at noon Wednesday at Central YMCA. Preparations will be made for the annual Charter night program on Saturday.

Vandergrift Given Hospital Project

The Vandergrift Construction Company has been awarded the contract for a two-story addition on the south wing of Memorial Hospital.

The local firm submitted the low bid of $129,235 for the project when bids were opened earlier this week. Unsuccessful bidders were the George Construction Company, $130,839, and the George F. Hazelwood Company, $134,170.

The addition to the hospital's contagious wing will provide space for new X-ray and laboratory floors.

John A. Moberly, superintendent, said the contractor reported he will begin work as soon as materials are lined up.

West Virginia Sailor Hurt In Chicago Shooting Spree

CHICAGO (AP)—A West Virginia sailor was wounded Sunday night when, police said, a man fired a series of wild shots in a loop drug-store cafeteria.

Apprentice Fireman Robert Long, 20, of Martinsburg, W. Va., suffered a minor hand wound. None of the other 60 patrons was injured. The shooting occurred in the cafeteria of the Walgreen Drugstore at State and Randolph streets.

A store detective and several patrons subdued the gunman, who was identified as Carlos Padros, 25, and he was held by police for questioning. Police said he had been drinking.

Startled patrons ducked and scattered as Padros emptied his revolver and dashed for an escalator leading up from the basement level cafeteria. Police said he apparently had no intention of wounding anyone.

Long was seated with three other sailors, all stationed at Great Lakes Naval Training Center, when Padros started shooting.

Children Warned On Blast Caps

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn this morning warned local children to stay away from blasting caps.

Chief Flynn said that at this time of year construction jobs are in full swing and the danger of dynamite caps becomes more serious.

The caps, Flynn said, may appear to a child as being harmless, but "in the hands of any inexperienced person they are extremely dangerous."

The chief urged children and adults finding a cap to report it to the police so it can be disposed of safely.

Thefts Here Uncovered By Investigators

Frostburg Employee Of Store To Be Questioned Today

City Police have uncovered a series of thefts involving more than $1,000 in pistols, rifles and fishing equipment from a downtown department store.

The case was developed over the weekend by Det. Kenneth Morrissey and Officer Wilbur E. Shank and Det. Thomas See.

The loot, which had been taken and sold over a period of time, was stolen from the Sears and Roebuck Company.

Held in City Jail
Det. Morrissey and Officer Shank started their extensive investigation Friday night after arresting Richard Harris McClintock, 24, of 12 Grant Street, Frostburg, in connection with the case. He is an employee of the store.

McClintock is being held in the City Jail for investigation. He was scheduled to be taken to the State's Attorney's office this afternoon for questioning.

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn this morning praised the excellent work of Det. Morrissey and Officer Shank in the case.

Friday night the local detective and officer made dozens of check stops in Frostburg, Eckhart, Cresaptown and along U. S. Route 40 in an effort to locate McClintock.

Some Loot Recovered
Saturday and Sunday the local authorities contacted more than a dozen persons to obtain some of the stolen loot.

Already recovered is a .22 calibre pistol, 22 Winchester pump rifle, three Zebco 33 fishing reels, .32 Winchester rifle, a J. C. Higgins casting reel, a Higgins fly rod, a spinning rod, another casting rod, a .22 automatic pistol, a .12 gauge Winchester pump rifle, a Remington-Union master pump rifle, a .22 calibre pistol, a canvas fishing reel and two 8 mm. motion picture cameras.

Police said all but two persons have cooperated thus far, but warned that in the event people fail to return the goods warrants will be issued charging them with receiving stolen goods.

Earl Steward Found Guilty Murder Count

Former Cumberland Man Faces Death Penalty In Nevada

ELKO, Nev. (AP)—Earl L. Steward, 39, formerly of Baltimore and Cumberland, Md., has been found guilty of first degree murder and faces the death penalty.

A jury returned the verdict and fixed the death penalty late Saturday night after being out for one hour and 40 minutes.

Steward's only comment was a barely audible "thank you."

Dist. Judge Taylor Wines set April 25 for formal sentencing.

Dist. Atty. Grant Sawyer had asked for a first degree verdict for the slaying of 55-year-old Thomas R. Jensen of Jamaica, Iowa.

"Don't turn this impulsive killer loose again, because next time it may be you," Sawyer told the jury of eight women and four men in his closing argument.

Sawyer charged Steward killed Jensen in cold blood while the men drove eastward across Nevada in a moving van.

Defense Atty. Keith Williams contended the shooting occurred in California and that Steward shot Jensen in self defense.

He asked for a acquittal on grounds of justifiable homicide.

Sawyer said it was the jury's duty not to allow Steward ever again to roam the streets.

"He has preyed on society ever since he was 14 and now he has graduated, finally, to murder," the prosecutor said.

Steward's criminal record began in 1933 in Cumberland, and ranged through burglary, larceny and sex offenses.

Dist. Judge Taylor Wines' instructions gave the jury seven alternate verdicts, ranging from first degree murder to involuntary manslaughter or acquittal.

The final defense witness, Dr. William Barrett, Salt Lake City psychiatrist who examined Steward in March, described him as an anti-social type who would tend to act impulsively.

Testimony In Hub City Case Begins

Hagerstown Man Undergoes Second Trial For Attack

Testimony was started today in Circuit Court on a removed case from Hagerstown in which a young man is charged with assault with intent to rape a married woman at her home last August 7.

William C. Kneisly, 23, was tried here during the January term of court but the jury could not agree.

First witness today was the complaining witness, a 33-year-old mother of two children. She told the jury of 12 men that she went to bed at her home, which is a two-bedroom apartment in a public housing project, about 11:30 last August 7 after visiting a next door neighbor for a short time.

Saw Man In Doorway
About 2:30 or 3 a. m. she said she was awakened by a noise and saw a man standing in the bedroom doorway with a lighted match. Her eight-year-old daughter and six-year-old son were asleep in the second bedroom.

The woman said she asked the man how he got into the apartment and he said through the door. He also said "Mae sent me," the woman testified. She said she told the intruder to get out of the house.

Instead, he jumped onto the bed and tore off her clothes and attempted to assault her. The woman said she cried out and Kneisly choked her. The noise awakened the woman's eight-year-old daughter and she came to the bedroom and switched on the light.

At this point, the woman testified, the man was startled by the light going on and she was able to break free. She said she ran from the bedroom and in her haste fell on the stairway to the living room.

She said when she got to the door her next door neighbor, a woman friend, came in and turned on the light. The neighbor had been awakened by the commotion, she said.

Kneisly was still in the apartment, the woman testified, and a few moments later ran past them and fled.

In his opening statement to the jury, Omar T. Kaylor, state's attorney for Washington County, told the jury somewhat the same facts in the case that the complaining witness had testified to.

Getty One Assistant
He is being assisted in the case by Wayne Stultz, assistant state's attorney, and James S. Getty, state's attorney for Allegheny County.

Martin V. B. Bostetter, Hagerstown, counsel for Kneisly, told the jury in his opening statement that Kneisly had been out earlier that evening and had consumed quite a large amount of intoxicants.

Bostetter said that Kneisly and another man were in the vicinity of the housing project but that his client had gone home about 1:45 a. m. and this could be verified through his parents.

The young man was employed at a furniture company at the time, Edward J. Ryan is assisting Bostetter in the defense.

The regular petit jury panel was exhausted and 18 tamen were brought into court from downtown Cumberland. A majority of them are retired railroad workers.

William B. Orndorff, chairman on the committee on arrangements, said the reunion dinner and dance has been set for Saturday, August 16, at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Hot Weather And Showers Continue Here

Continued warm weather is predicted for the Cumberland area with showers and scattered thunderstorms likely.

The low tonight will be in the mid 50s. There will be considerable cloudiness.

Yesterday's balmy summer weather brought out hikers, campers and thousands of motorists. Area highways were packed with Sunday drivers.

Campers were out in force at Deep Creek Lake and on the South Branch of the Potomac River.

The unofficial high of 90 degrees Saturday afternoon is not the highest temperature recorded here in April as it reached 97 on two previous occasions during the past 25 years.

The humidity was rather high yesterday and today. The temperature dropped sharply yesterday after a shower at 2 p. m. with thermometers showing a decline from 83 to 69 degrees. Later temperatures rose slowly.

Nature hikes and other projects will be carried out in the afternoons under supervision of Mrs. Aden Everstine. Camp craft and different types of outdoor cooking will feature the program on Saturday morning, May 3, directed by Mrs. Alton Fortney.

Teachers Hold Session On Leadership Training

Approximately 60 members of the Allegheny County Teachers Association attended a leadership training institute Saturday at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

The institute featured three discussion periods covering "You and Your Associations," "You and Your Ethics Committee," and "You and Your Welfare Committee."

The institute featured three discussion periods covering "You and Your Associations," "You and Your Ethics Committee," and "You and Your Welfare Committee."

Edward Meconi, past president of the Allegheny County Teachers Association, introduced the guests including E. Guy Jewell, president of the Maryland Teachers Association; Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of Allegheny County School; J. Goodloe Jackson, a member of the Allegheny County Board of Education; Miss Vilora Swauger, president of the Washington County Teachers Association, and Harry Hendrickson, director of research and communications for the Maryland State Teachers Association.

The keynote address was given by Jewell, and group singing was led by Frank E. Gamble. The closing remarks were given by Hayes Chambers, president of the Allegheny County Association.

Jewell was consultant for the discussion on "Your Association," while John D. Kelly, Beall High School, served as leader, and Samuel Lisanti, Columbia Street School, as recorder.

The panel covered the teacher's duties to the county, state and national associations, and the benefits obtained from the organizations.

Harry Hendrickson was consultant for the ethics committee, while James White of Bruce High in Westernport served as leader, and Miss Mary E. Straw of La-Vale School, as recorder.

The discussion included the ethical relationship existing between student and teacher, parent and teacher, the teacher and community, teacher and teacher, and teacher and his profession.

Milton Raver, executive secretary of the Maryland State Association, was consultant for the discussion on the welfare committee. Meconi was the leader, and Robert MacMillan of Mt. Savage School was recorder.

In the study group on "You and Your Associations," the discussions were centered on such organizations on the local, state and national levels. It was stressed that the primary purpose of any such organization was to improve the education of both children and teachers.

Such associations, it was agreed, should be used as mediums for building up public relations and should also be used as a community service.

During the welfare workshop, it was brought out that the Maryland State Teachers Association is conducting a pilot study in Frederick County regarding the teacher load, clerical duties and outside duties. The results, it was announced, will be published and recommendations made for statewide adoption as soon as the study is completed.

The teacher load, the discussion revealed, might be lessened by the removal of some of the non-teaching positions in determining the teacher-pupil ratio. At present, a teacher is employed for every 30 students in a school, and the faculty total includes such non-teaching personnel as a principal and librarian.

It was generally agreed that teachers can do a more efficient job with smaller classes, and extra instructors for special fields.

The necessity for professional ethics in the school and community was stressed in the ethics workshop. In regards to the participation by teachers in politics, it was felt that such action would be ethical as long as it was non-partisan in the classroom.

Oxygen Lack Kills Some Trout Supply

The State Game and Inland Fish Commission stocked trout in Everts Creek today but about 100 of the more than 1,000 were dead when they arrived here.

The 100 trout which were lost will be replaced during the next stocking, Mink reported.

Mayor Notes Condition In Area Plants

Optimistic Report Should Encourage District Residents

Mayor Roy W. Eves said today that an optimistic economic report by local and area industries should encourage those who tend to be discouraged and pessimistic about the current national recession.

The Mayor referred to an article in yesterday's Sunday Times which cited the optimistic outlook and continued good business here despite the decline on a national scale.

Eves said accordingly that Cumberland is better off than the national average and commended the article.

Should Be Optimistic
While he said he recognized this is not helpful to the man out of work at present, he concluded that citizens should feel optimistic because the city and area are better off than the rest of the nation.

On another matter, Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan hailed the Civil Aeronautics Board decision under which Allegheny Airlines will continue service here. He said he knew the service is limited but "We're still glad to have it."

And Finance Commissioner John J. Long said the CAB ruling speaks well for the fight which the city staged through its attorney, Thomas B. Finan. He said the air service is a help to the city both from the promotion and economic standpoint.

On still another matter, Keegan asked for a report on the status of the third low-rent housing project on Oldtown Road. He said the old houses to be removed have been standing idle for some time.

Mayor Eves said that after plans had been completed, it was found that part of the property had been included in SRC plans for the Expressway.

As a result, the plans have had to be changed and properties interchanged by the two groups. This has taken time, he said, adding that a definite plan has been whipped into shape now.

Lucky that he did—lucky, that is, for Clarence C. Parrish of Bradrick, Ohio, and George Bowen of Proctorville, Ohio. Parrish and Bowen were clinging to the overturned boat, the object Rife first thought was a log. He pulled them aboard.

Parrish and Bowen estimated they had been in the water about an hour. Their metal boat, powered by an outboard motor, was equipped with built-in pontoons, making it unsinkable. It had been swamped by a small wave.

Program For Holiday Set In Tri-Towns

WESTERNPORT—The tentative date for the Tri-Towns Memorial Day program has been set for Thursday evening, May 29, at Philos Cemetery.

If this schedule is carried out as suggested at the Memorial Day committee meeting Saturday at the home of Victory Post 153, American Legion, the parade will assemble at 6 p. m. and march off at 6:30 p. m. After arrival at the cemetery, veterans' graves will be decorated, and a program presented.

In the past, Memorial Day has always been observed here on May 30. For many years the services were held in the afternoon but then was changed to the morning to give more people an opportunity to attend.

The committee said it has become a problem to many persons taking part in the parade as industries work on May 30 and men do not feel they can afford to lose the time.

The Memorial Day committee said it will appreciate comments on the proposed change. Another meeting will be held Saturday at 7 p. m. at the Victory Post. A definite date will be selected at the meeting.

The meeting was called by Lonnie F. Marsh, commander of Victory Post, general chairman last year. At that time it was decided that Victory Post would have charge of the Memorial Day program one year and Kelly-Mansfield Post 52, Piedmont American Legion, the following year and rotate in that manner each year.

Frank Price, commander of Kelly-Mansfield Post, was named general chairman; Norris Bruce, treasurer, and George W. Daddysman, secretary.

Members of Auxiliary Unit 153, Victory Post A. L., and Auxiliary Unit 52 A. L., Kelly-Mansfield Post, were appointed to solicit funds for the program.

Wilbur Johnson, president of Luke Local 676, was named assisted by William Simpson, director of Bruce High School bands, and T. J. Martin, service officer of Kelly-Mansfield Post.

Martin was named chairman of parade committee with William Simpson and James Willis.

The committee decided to donate $25 each to the Bruce Senior and Junior High School bands that will take part in the parade and program.

Also represented at the meeting were Piedmont Company 10, Uniform Rank, K. of P.; Lafayette Lodge 3, Knights of Pythias; Piedmont; Potomac Camp 5, United Spanish War Veterans; and the Bruce High School Band.

'Governor' Asks Youth To Retain Civic Interest

CHARLESTON — Members of a model teen-age legislature were back at their homes in various parts of the state today with a plea that they continue their interest in citizenship fresh in their minds.

The three-day session, part of the first YMCA youth and government program in West Virginia, ended Sunday in the House and Senate chambers of the Capitol.

Gov. Rebecca Colebank, 18-year-old Elkins High School student who headed the brief model government structure, urged the continued interest in citizenship in their concluding message to the legislators.

Representatives of Hi-Y (boys) and Tri-Hi-Y (girls) clubs filled the mock legislature's 32 senate and 100 house seats. The session was conducted along the same general lines as the state's regular lawmaking procedures.

Board To Vote On Budgets For Colleges

CHARLESTON — The State Board of Education was scheduled to take up 1958 fiscal year budgets of state colleges today, as it began a two-day meeting.

The budgets of the nine colleges provide for spending appropriations voted by the 1958 Legislature. The presidents offered earlier for consideration their plans for apportioning the money within the appropriations.

The Legislature voted 10 per cent more money for salaries of full-time instructional staff members but otherwise generally held the line at or near levels for the current year.

After approval by the Board of Education the budgets go on to the Board of Public Works and the State Budget Office.

The Board of Education was scheduled also to take up a report and recommendations as to whether it should approve Wheeling College for granting degrees. The report was to be made by the Board's committee on unaccredited colleges, which has inspected the Wheeling school.

Another matter up before the board was the report of the textbook advisory committee on adoption of elementary school texts for history, geography and civics.

The board will adopt a multiple list for each subject and each elementary grade for four years beginning July 1, 1959. County school boards will then select texts from the approved list.

The advisory committee last Wednesday concluded its two-day hearing for 21 publishers who submitted bids.

On Tuesday, the board will take up building projects at two colleges. Bids will be opened on construction of a student union at West Liberty State College and architects' plans for a new women's dormitory at the same school will be considered.

Both projects are to be financed by loans from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

The board will act on a proposed loan agreement to finance a new student union building at Fairmont State College and also will have architects' plans for the project before it for approval.

The Adventists' Ministerial Council adopted a resolution which said: "Any Sunday ordinance is nothing more than religious legislation and religious legislation is unconstitutional."

Adam F. Ruf, president of the West Virginia Conference of Seventh Day Adventists, said: "We believe that each individual should be left free to live as his conscience may dictate, untrammelled by any interference in religion from the civil magistrate."

He urged that all local Adventist congregations in the state adopt resolutions opposing Sunday Blue Law ordinances.

Extended Fishing Season Experiment Set In W. Va.

Trout Stocking In Hampshire Area Completed

ROMNEY—The West Virginia Conservation office here reports that trout streams in the area have been stocked in preparation for West Virginia trout season, which begins next Saturday.

Fish have been placed in Waite's Run, Mill Creek, Mill Run, Dillons Run and Cold Stream, officials said.

Between 4,000 and 5,000 adult rainbow and brook trout have been placed in Hampshire County streams, all one and two-year-old fish.

Stocking has been done late due to the flood danger created by the snow accumulation of the late winter.

Trout season opens at 5:30 a. m. Saturday, and runs until midnight December 31. No minimum length limit has been set, but a fisherman is limited to eight fish in a day, and 60 a season.

Black bass season is open all year, with no length limit, and the limit set at eight a day and 60 a season.

Game and rough fish are open all year, with no limit.

Frog season begins at 7:47 p. m. June 7, and runs to midnight June 21, with a ten-a-day and 50-a-season limit.

County Schools To Observe DST

OAKLAND — Garrett County schools will go on Daylight Saving Time Monday, April 28, it was announced by the Board of Education.

The Oakland City Council has declared it would observe DST, and the Town of Mt. Lake Park also officially announced it would go on fast time.

Members of the Board of Education, in declaring for DST, stated that the possibility of returning all county schools to Eastern Standard Time the last Sunday in September, rather than the last Sunday in October, was under consideration.

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, said board members felt that the month of October was late for DST in this county due to numerous early buses and that it would be willing to return the schools to DST earlier, if the time schedule for the transportation of the county pupils attending school in Allegheny and Mineral counties could be worked out.

Daylight Saving Time will go into effect next Sunday, April 27, at 12:01 a. m. The county is planning no action on the question.

Huntington real estate interests have proposed that local builders, building suppliers, bankers and other private business interest be given an opportunity to clear slums and put up replacement buildings in the city. A resolution to this effect will come up before the City Council Tuesday night.

It was offered as an alternative to a proposal that the Huntington Housing Authority be authorized to start a program with federal funds for 300 low-rent housing units.

The 1958 Bluefield teenage road race was completed the past weekend, with driving tests for some 50 students administered in City Park. The program was aimed at teaching safe driving habits to high school students.

Clean-up, paint-up, fix-up week will be held at Marlinton April 28-May 3. It will end with a parade and dedication service marking a local point of historical interest.

Fire Warning For Frostburg Area Issued

FROSTBURG — Paul Haberlein, chief of the Frostburg Fire Department, announced yesterday that 19 fire calls have been answered so far this month with 12 of them being grass and brush fires.

Chief Haberlein pointed out that most of the grass fires could have been prevented if precautions had been taken by those setting the fires.

When an alarm is sounded, he continued, the volunteer firemen drop whatever they are doing to answer the call.

When the call is for a fire that could have been prevented it is almost as bad as turning in a false alarm.

Valuable equipment is tied up, he said, and in case of a serious fire, time, which is a valuable asset to the firemen, may be lost causing enormous losses.

He has asked that everyone be careful when burning brush, making sure that if it does get out of control, no damage could result, and definitely not to burn anything on windy days.

Firemen Respond To Blazing Display

MAYVILLE, Wis. — A recent display of aurora borealis was brilliant in many northern parts of the nation, but in this southern Wisconsin village it was positively blazing.

The volunteer firemen rushed to an alarm only to discover the glare of the northern lights had been mistaken for a rooftop blaze.

School Sites Auction Nets Board $9,950

OAKLAND—The Garrett County Board of Education recently sold several tracts of valuable real estate at public sale.

The first property sold was the Mt. Lake Park school building and playground. This was purchased by Thomas K. Vance of Loch Lynn for $3,050. The next property sold was the Annex playground. This property was sold first as six building lots, all of which were purchased by John L. Fitzwater & Son. Lot No. 1 was bid at $1,300, Lot No. 2 at $1,100, Lot No. 3 at $1,250, Lot No. 9 at $1,475, Lot No. 10 at $700 and Lot No. 11 at $875, a total of $8,700.

The land was then offered for sale as a whole and was bought by John L. Fitzwater & Son for $6,900. The John and Finzel schools were also recently sold for $2,300.

The money realized by the school board from the sale of these properties will be used to pay for the cost of renovating and furnishing the new board of education headquarters, to be located in the front portion of the old Annex building. The new offices will provide a board room, library and display room, conference room, private offices for the supervisory staff, fireproof vault and office quarters for the financial secretaries, mimeograph room, space for storage and display of architectural drawings, work room for secretaries, storage spaces, cloak room and new toilet facilities.

The old Annex building was in a bad state of repair and much work had to be done in order to convert the building into suitable office facilities. The quarters now being occupied by the school board in the County Court House are termed inadequate for the efficient operation of the business of running the schools of the county. The space now occupied by the school board will be used in the future by other branches of county government.

The Annex building is expected to be ready for occupancy around the middle of May, and the total cost, which includes a new gas furnace and heating system, will be approximately $11,000. The maintenance men, along with some extra help, have been working on this project since January.

Farm Prices Hit New High

WASHINGTON—(INS) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson has painted the rosiest picture in years of the U. S. farmer's financial status.

Benson said yesterday farm income is running well above last year and the demand for food has not been touched by the recession.

He told a news conference that during the first three months of this year, farmers' net realized income was at an annual rate of 13 billion dollars. A year ago, the rate was only 11.7 billion.

Benson added that spot checks at major markets indicated the improvement is continuing into April. Prices for beef cattle, hogs, eggs, commercial vegetables and potatoes are all much higher than a year ago. Farm prices generally are at the highest point in five years.

He admitted that part of the price boost results from delayed marketing and short supplies caused by bad winter weather.

Leaders Tour Area Outdoor Rec Facilities

MARTINSBURG — A group of nationally known conservation leaders left here Saturday to start a two-day inspection of outdoor recreation facilities, problems and opportunities in the upper Potomac region.

Joseph Penfold, conservation director of the Izaak Walton League of America, and Stewart Brandborg, assistant conservation director of the National Wildlife Federation, Washington, were met by T. C. Fearnow of Berkeley Springs, assistant forester for the Eastern Region of the United States. The party was joined by Dr. William Wallace, national vice president of the Izaak Walton League of America, and Dr. J. W. Johnston Jr. of Georgetown University, prominent in the Appalachian Mountain Club.

The group camped out at Spruce Knob, close by West Virginia's highest mountain peak, at Shot Cherry Cabin. They were met at this point by E. M. Oliver of Elkins, W. Va., supervisor of Monongahela National Forest.

While on the National Forest, the party inspected Spruce Knob Lake, which provides trout fishing for thousands of West Virginians. They also saw wildlife development programs for deer and wild turkey, trout stream improvement, high country grazing areas, and recreation facilities developed for public use.

Fearnow, who conducted the inspection, said that the recreation potential of West Virginia's Eastern Panhandle and other portions of the upper Potomac Basin is becoming more and more important.

"Under Congressional authorization for 'Operation Outdoors' the US Forest Service has already launched a long term program to provide increased facilities for public recreation on the George Washington and Monongahela Forests in this area," Fearnow said.

The show that opened the Maryland State Novice Championships Saturday night didn't come close to matching the high calibre of amateur boxing presented here shortly after World War II, but then nobody expected that to happen.

It was, just as the name implies, a novice program. The youngsters who donned the gloves and appeared in a public ring for the first time were green as grass and made a lot of mistakes, but they were sincere, to be sure. They fought with hearts, as well as gloves, and the small turnout of approximately 200 applauded their efforts.

It was the consensus of ring-siders that most of the local boys either weren't in as good as shape as their Baltimore foes or else the boys from the "Big City" came here with more experience. They were, however, all novices according to the AAU interpretation which says a boy is eligible for the beginner's class if he has had two fights and lost them both.

But even at that, the Police Boys Club, sponsor of the tournament, will be represented by six boys in next Saturday's finals in the PBC's fight headquarters at 38 North Mechanic Street. Baltimore will have five boys in the finals, including James Coffield, last Saturday's only two-time winner. The Eckhart A. C. will have an entry in the heavyweight class as a result of Wilson Booth's first-round victory.

Carrying the colors of the PBC in the finals will be Jerry Hammond, 156; Charles Washington, 147; Donald Smith, 139; Lou Gormer, 128; and John Powell, 124, middleweight, and Kenny Gray, heavy.

Nine of the 13 fights on the opening program ended in knockouts, but there were several good scraps which had the fans cheering all the way. Coffield's win over Cumberland's Mervin Pope in the lightweight class was a humdinger, as was the next-to-last between Joseph Jones of the Druid Hill YMCA and Ernie Green of the PBC, middleweight.

These two boys fought like veterans, showing a lot of polish and ability. Green had an edge, we thought, in a slam-bang first round and was battling his Baltimore opponent on near-even terms in the second when he ran out of gas with just one second remaining.

One of the city policemen, who has been working in training the local boxers, said Green ate a late supper and wasn't in condition to go the route.

There were the usual humorous incidents that almost always feature "first nighters." In one of the bouts a boy lost his mouthpiece, dropped his guard, reached down and picked up the piece while his foe stood by. Once the mouthpiece was back in place, punches began to fly anew.

One of the Cumberland boys was fishing when he should have been weighing in, but he got to the hall—with the aid of a little coaxing—under the deadline. Then he proceeded to register a victory.

It was, we thought, a pretty good start for the PBC and indications are that the ring sport can once again become popular in the Cumberland area.

Sports Keg Residue

Cumberland's Bob Kirtley had a big day last Friday in Army's 50 baseball victory over Brown. The former Allegany High star collected three hits, including a sixth-inning homer with one on and a triple in the eighth, also with one aboard.

Bob Gilliam, celebrated his first West Point varsity start by pitching a one-hitter, giving up a single in the seventh. An excerpt from Jimmy Cannon's on-the-spot report on the crowd at the Los Angeles Dodgers' opening game: "It was the largest, the sexiest, the dumbest, the loudest, the most remote, the handsomest, the least clothed and the most impressed opening-day throng in all the ages of baseball."

Heavyweight Mike De John, who mixes it with Nino Valdez in Wednesday night's fights (telecast), is the youngest of seven brothers, all closely identified with the fistie game. Brothers Ralph, Carmen and Joey all fought professionally as middleweights. Louis and Tommy were fine amateurs. John De John, handsome 44-year old eldest member of this Syracuse tribe, is the only non-fighter. He managed all the others and is co-manager, along with Joe Negro, of Carmen Basilio. Ironically, Basilio is noted as one of the most diligent trainers in the business, while the biggest rap against the De John boys has been that they didn't cotton to gym work. Rival Hopes Wilting Under Yanks' Hot Start

18 Of Next 24 Battles Slated For Home Park

By FRED DE LUCA
INS Sports Writer

Of course, it's too early to concede the pennant to Casey Stengel's Yankees, but the budding hopes of seven other American League managers are being wilted by New York's hot start.

It's altogether possible that the Yankees, who already lead the league by a healthy 1-1/2 games, may have a stranglehold on the pennant before they leave on their first Western trip in mid-May.

The Bronx Bombers play 18 of their next 24 games at Yankee Stadium, and the way their pitching is going, it could be just one New York victory after another.

Chisox Clobbered
In six games, five of which the Yankees won, Stengel's staff has given up a total of only eight runs. What's more, Stengel has not called on the same starter twice and has not been forced to use such talented hurlers as Sal Maglie and Art Ditmar.

In contrast, the Chicago White Sox, considered by Al Lopez to have the best pitching in the league, have been tagged for 27 runs in five games and have lost three.

The Yankees chalked up their second shutout of the season yesterday as Bob Turley blanked the Baltimore Orioles, 7 to 0, on four hits. Connie Johnson was the loser as the Yanks swept the three-game set.

Norm Siebern hit an inside-the-park homer and drove in another run with a bases-loaded walk from Arnold Portocarrero. In other American League games, Jack Urban allowed five hits as Kansas City crushed the White Sox, 8 to 2. Home runs produced all the runs in Cleveland's 4-to-2 win over Detroit and Roy Sievers' 10th-inning homer gave Washington a 6-to-5 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

Musial Belts Pair
Stan Musial's pair of two-run homers propelled St. Louis to a 3-to-0 win over Chicago. It was the Cards' first win and the Cubs' first loss of the season. Ramon Menzies hurled San Francisco to a 12-to-2 win over Los Angeles. Robin Roberts pitched and batted Philadelphia to a 3-to-2 triumph over Milwaukee. Pittsburgh topped Cincinnati, 4 to 3, when rookie R. C. Stevens belted a homer with two out in the ninth inning.

Musial, who now has four homers, helped Martin win in relief and tagged Jim Brosnan with the defeat. Ernie Banks and John Goryl homered for the surprising Cubs.

The Giants, with Danny O'Connell hitting two homers and Darryl Spencer one, beat Don Drysdale for the second time this season. The win gave the Giants their second straight series from the Dodgers by a 2-to-1 margin. Carl Furillo averted a shutout for Los Angeles when he homered in the fourth inning. Spencer and Willie Mays each had three hits.

The crowd of 47,234 at the huge Coliseum gave the Dodgers a three-game home attendance of 167,209. However, the temperature—100 on the field and 95 on the stadium thermometer—caused some 20 people to faint.

Roberts Ties Club Record
Roberts allowed Milwaukee five hits, including homers by Hank Aaron and Harry Hanebrink, and collected three to score two runs himself. Bob Rush was the loser. It was Roberts' 190th win, tying the club record set by Hall of Fame Grover Cleveland Alexander.

Stevens' homer off Cincinnati reliever Willard Schmidt gave the win to Bill Friend. Stevens, a 25-year-old rookie first baseman, is 4-for-4 this season, including four homers, and has driven in four runs.

Urban had a shutout until the ninth. Bill Tuttle and Billy Hunter each smashed three-run homers for the A's off Bill Fischer.

Cleveland's four runs off Jim Bunning came on homers by Roger Maris, Rocky Colavito, Minnie Miñoso and Dick Brown. Miñoso's came in the eighth and

Bob Welborn Wins Fourth Race In Row

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP) — Bob Welborn's victory in the $13,875 Virginia 500 here yesterday made the young Greensboro, N. C., daredevil the hottest thing on wheels in stock car racing.

The triumph at Martinsville, a speedway, in record time for the event, was the fourth in succession for Welborn since April 5.

Welborn's string started when he won the Grand National Circuit Race at Fayetteville, N. C. On Easter Monday, he came home first in the convertible race in Winston-Salem, N. C. On April 13, he won his third in a row in the 100-mile convertible race at Weaverville, N. C.

Pushing his 1957 Chevrolet to the limit, Welborn captured the Virginia 500, a 250-mile, 500-lap race, yesterday in 4 hours, 5 minutes, 14 seconds. This was a full 33 seconds faster than the previous record set in 1956 by Buck Baker of Spartanburg, S. C., in the first Virginia 500 ever held.

Welborn's average speed was 61.16 m.p.h. His victory gave him a total of $3,730, which included $3,450 for first place and $280 in lap money.

Though the victory and the top cash prize went to Welborn, the 500 points in the Grand National Circuit standings that go with victory were awarded to Red White of Silver Spring, Md., who was second behind Welborn. Welborn couldn't claim the points because he drives in the National Convertible Circuit rather than the Grand National.

Benders Boost Ladies Dux Lead

All three games in the Savoy Ladies Bowling League were won by a 2-1 margin as Benders edged Majestics; Crystals nipped Savoy; and Diamonds defeated Queen City.

Benders increased their league lead to seven games while Queen City's losses endangered their hold on second place. Crystals moving to within two games of the runner-up spot.

Individual team leaders were Gyneth Ziler, 126; Dorothy Holmes, 532; Benders; Helen Isner, 159-425; Majestics; Harriet Allison, 151-337; Crystals; Millie Frankfort, 140-373; Savoy; Elizabeth Rorick, 119; Edith Owens, 307; Diamonds; and Marie Frankfort, 134-238; Queen City. Standings:

Homer Record Apt To Topple Gene Howell, Ann Kammauf Lead Bowlers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Let's face it. The Los Angeles Coliseum with its 250-foot left field foul line looks like a new home run heaven of baseball. But it is going to be a nice gold-paved heaven.

In three games at the sun-baked concrete bowl, the San Francisco Giants hit seven home runs, the Los Angeles Dodgers five. That adds up to 12, an average of four a game. And these two clubs hardly represent the power of the National League.

If they average four a game at the converted football stadium, the final total for a season would be a shocking 308. The major league record is 219 at Cincinnati last season.

Ruth's Record In Jeopardy
Now, they may not keep up this early pace. But why not? Wait until some of the big right-handed hitters like Ernie Banks, Frank Thomas and Henry Aaron get a look at that friendly 42-foot fence.

"Somebody may break Babe Ruth's record '60,'" said Danny O'Connell of the Giants who hit two into O'Malley land yesterday. "I hope it isn't me," joked Danny who has hit only 33 homers in six years in the majors.

Hank Sauer, 39, kicked up his heels and belted three into the seats in the series. Old Hankus felt so young he even beat out an infield hit.

"I'm going to leave you here," joked Giant manager Billy Rigney with Sauer. "We'll see you when we come back next time."

"Got To Live With It"
Rigney is a realist. After beating the Dodgers four out of the first six games, including a 12-2 romp yesterday and an 11-4 rout Saturday, he can't quarrel with the fence.

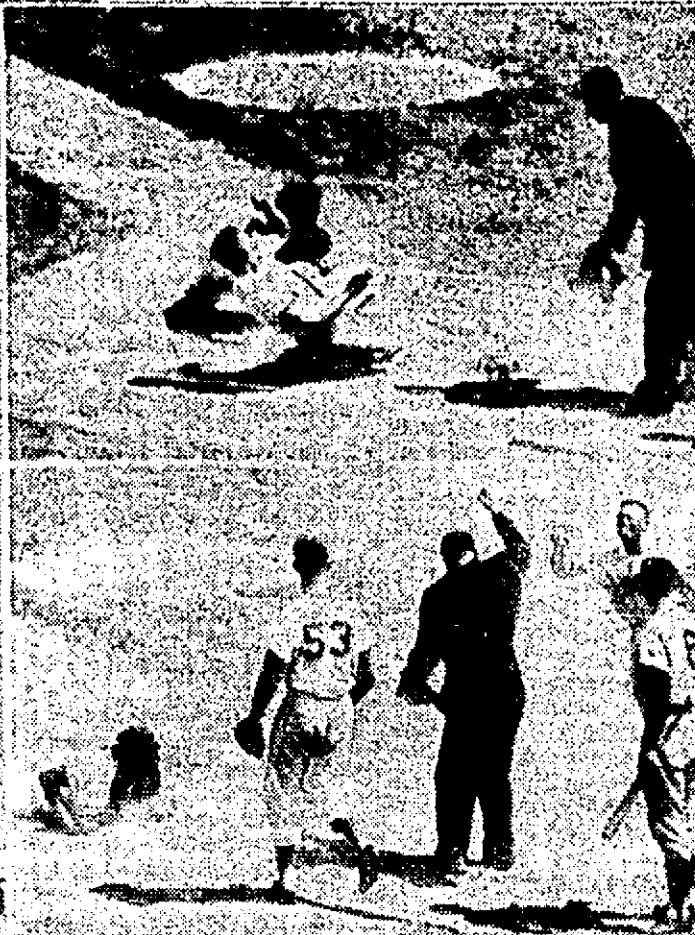

"It's here and we've got to live with it," said Rigney. "Let's face it. Be brave and don't walk anybody."

That is all fine and good for Rigney. How about those left behind—the Dodgers?

The Dodgers staff was raked for 42 hits in the three games. Carl Erskine won the home opener with a 12-hitter but five paraded Saturday and four more Sunday. Left-handers are doomed to many rained nights and days in this park.

Campbell Eying North And South

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — Bill Campbell, Huntington, W. Va., insurance salesman who will be 35 years old in two weeks, seeks his fourth North and South amateur golf tournament championship in nine years. Qualifying play was on tap today.

The 6-4, 200-pound Campbell, a member of last year's Walker Cup team, seeks to become the No. 2 man in this 58-year-old event's roll call of winners.

Only George T. Dunlap Jr. has won more often. From 1931 through 1942 he took seven North and South titles.

Campbell first won in 1950, repeated in 1953 and again in 1957. Last spring he beat Hillman Robbins, the defending champion from Memphis, Tenn., in the finals.

He was in the field of 125 today seeking a place in the 64-player first round of match play tomorrow.

Campbell and Robbins had three Walker Cup teammates of last year heading the formidable opposition. They were irrepressible Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, Bill Hyndman of Abington, Pa., and Arnold Blum of Macon, Ga.

All Undefeated Beall Nine Plays Alco, Sentinels During Week

Beall High's baseball fortunes, which haven't been high in the Allegany County Interscholastic League since the heydays of strong-armed pitchers Enordo "Moose" Arnone and Tom Richards during the early '30s, may be taking an upturn this season.

The Mountaineers, keeping pace with Fort Hill and Allegany Fort Hill and Alco haven't been with their 2-0 record, could hold pressed in posting their 2-0 record key to the race, even this early in the campaign. The 8-4 do-Mounties face both the Campers and Sentinels this week, taking noon.

Win Three In Row
Beall hasn't had a pennant winner since 1933 when the Mounties and Hyndman deadlocked for the title. Under coach "Ebbie" Finzel the Frostburgers had ruled the roost in 1950-51-52 when Arnone was blazing his fast ball past most of the batters in the circuit.

In that span of four years, Beall teams won 48 games and lost only eight. They were undefeated in 1951 (13-0) while having a 10-3 mark in '50, posting a 13-1 in '52 and finishing with a 12-4 to knot Hyndman in '53.

This spring, with coach Melvin Brown in his second season, Beall has rapped Flintstone, 25-3, and beaten Valley, 3-1. Dave Richards, brother of Tom, set the Black Knights down with only three singles while fanning a dozen. Flintstone could manage only three safeties off the slants of three hurlers in the lidifier.

City Dominates Races
The city's three schools have dominated play in the circuit the past four years and all apparently have contending clubs again. Fort Hill and Alco haven't been pressed in posting their 2-0 record while LaSalle's one setback in the two showings was the 8-4 do-Mounties face both the Campers and Sentinels this week, taking noon.

The Campers, with Chet Payne handling the reigns for the first time, whipped Bruce, 6-2, and then whacked Flintstone, 9-1. Fort Hill opened with an 8-3 decision over Mt. Savage while the Explorers defeated Valley, 8-2.

In addition to tomorrow's Beall-Allegany clash, the Sentinels will be going after their third victory by facing Valley (0-2) on the South End diamond while Flintstone (0-2) invades Mt. Savage (1-1) and LaSalle will be at Westernport to meet Bruce (0-2).

The LaSalle contest was originally a home game for the Explorers but was switched to Westernport because the Explorers' home diamond, Celanese Field, is not ready for play. That one will begin at 3:30 with the others slated for a 4 o'clock getaway.

The Potomac Valley Conference also has a heavy card listed tomorrow with all three of the undefeated clubs in action.

Unbeaten Clubs Tangle
Keyser (3-0) puts its lead up against Petersburg (1-1) on the Vikings' field while Paw Paw (2-0) tangles with Berkeley Springs (2-0) on the Indians' home grounds.

Eight Teams Have Chance In Southern

By The Associated Press

Only two teams are out of the running of contenders so far for the Southern Conference baseball championship, but the list could be slimmed down a bit this week as league teams engage one another in 12 family scraps.

Barring a collapse all the way down the line, Washington & Lee and William & Mary (both 1-6) have no chance for conference honors and can only hope to play a spoiler role the rest of the season.

But the other eight league teams, none of whom has lost more than twice, have definite championship aspirations and all but Richmond's front-running Spiders will play at least two conference games this week.

Spiders Have 4-0 Mark

Richmond, which boosted its league-leading record to 4-0 with a 14-6 romp over Virginia Tech Saturday, takes on defending champion George Washington (2-1) Wednesday in perhaps the feature game of the week.

Should the Spiders, beat GW, they'll remain in first place for another week at least. If they lose, they could be overhauled by Davidson (4-1), GW or Virginia Military Institute (1-1). All three would have to win all their games this week to do it, however.

The Citadel's Bulldogs (4-2), tied with GW for third place, take on VMI, locked in a four-way dead-lock for fifth, in a doubleheader at Lexington, Va., today that's crucial for both teams. After today, VMI still has two conference dates this week and The Citadel has one more.

GW, Davidson and Virginia Tech (2-2) are in the three-game class with the Bulldogs during the week, while Furman (1-1), West Virginia (2-2) and W&L each plays two league foes. Richmond and W&M have just one league game each.

The Spiders unloaded an 18-hit attack and played their third errorless game in a row in routing Virginia Tech. Shortstop Alan Cole, a .536 hitter this season, slammed two doubles and two singles and drove in four runs for Richmond. J. P. Vass had three hits, and John Boggs, Charlie Leonard and Red Booker collected two apiece.

West Virginia Divides

West Virginia and George Washington divided a double header in Saturday's only other conference action. The Mountaineers won the opener 3-2, and the Colonials capped the 11-inning nightcap 5-4.

Sophomore left-hander Paul Chuma ran his record to 4-1 as he stopped the Colonials on two hits in the opener. A GW error allowed the winning runs to score. A two-out single by Sam Knisley chased home Don Herman with the winning marker for the Colonials in the second game.

VMI slammed out 15 hits, including home runs by Lloyd Thacker and Bobby Ross, for a 13-5 victory Saturday over Virginia of the Atlantic Coast Conference. Bobby Jordan had three hits for the Keydets, including a triple.

The only action scheduled today for conference teams besides the twin bill matching The Citadel and VMI has W&L entertaining Hampden-Sydney in a non-league engagement.

The rest of the week's schedule for conference teams:

Tuesday—William & Mary at George Washington; Davidson at Furman; Richmond at Hampden-Sydney; West Virginia at West Virginia Wesleyan.

Wednesday—Washington & Lee at Virginia Tech; George Washington at Richmond; Hampden-Sydney at VMI; Wofford at Furman; Bethany at West Virginia.

Thursday—Newberry at The Citadel.

Friday—Davidson at VMI (2); Virginia Tech at West Virginia; William & Mary at Hampden-Sydney.

Saturday—Washington & Lee at George Washington; Virginia Tech at West Virginia; Furman at The Citadel; Virginia at Richmond.

Sievers belted the first pitch of the extra inning by Bosox reliever Murray Wall. The blast sewed up the win for Washington fireman Bud Byerly. Norm Zauchin homered earlier for the Senators. The loss gave the last-place Red Sox a 1-and-5 record.

Turley Sees Great Season For Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Bullet Bob Turley, he of the no-windup delivery, made a sage observation today although he was half-kidding.

"The way this pitching staff is going," said the New York Yankees' righthander, "everyone is going to get a lot of rest."

Turley was thinking of the figures which include:

1. Five victories in six games.
2. An earned-run average of 1.36.
3. Two shutouts.
4. Four complete games.

Turley doesn't mind the rest. He thinks he pitches better with plenty of time between starts.

After his 7-0 whitewashing of the Baltimore Orioles yesterday, Turley has no idea when he will get another chance to start. Nor does Manager Casey Stengel, who certainly is not losing any sleep wondering who he is going to send to the firing line.

"I always have quite a time with Turley in spring training," mused Stengel. "He didn't go five or six innings during the exhibition games."

"But he has good habits and he's in shape. That's the important thing. He threw only 156 pitches against the Orioles, they tell me."

Handley Judges Will Pull Out Of CVAL This Year

Handley High of Winchester, Va., one of the perennial contenders for any title in the Cumberland Valley Athletic League, will drop from the tri-state circuit with the end of the current school year.

Garland Quarles, principal of the Virginia school, said that the judges would quit the loop because of the variance in the age eligibility between the schools which are represented by three states.

Virginia permits a player to remain eligible to an age six months older than the age permitted in Maryland and West Virginia.

Handley retained its membership for a trial period in the leagues for two years but a number of schools objected to the age difference, so the judges decided to drop out.

The withdrawal will be effective at the end of the current school year. This means that Handley will not be in the football league this fall. The other seven schools in the grid circuit are Westminster, North Hagerstown, South Hagerstown, Martinsburg, Frederick, Fort Hill and Allegany.

Handley announced it was considering withdrawing from the league at the December meeting in Berkeley Springs.

Fort Hill will continue to play Handley in football and will continue to participate in the Handley Invitational Track and Field Meet.

The Virginians will make their last appearance in a CVAL contest in the league's track and field meet at Fort Hill Stadium, Saturday, May 17.

Canadiens Nip Bruins, 5-3, To Win Stanley Cup Again

BOSTON—(INS)—Montreal's Canadiens today began a third year reign as holders of the Stanley Cup, emblematic of the world professional hockey championship.

The powerful Canadiens scored twice within the first two minutes of the game last night and went on to defeat the Boston Bruins, 5-3, to win the final playoff series, four games to two.

It was the 10th time the Canucks have won the cup since it came into possession of the National Hockey League.

The classy Montreal club, which won the league title in a romp, didn't just pick up the cup. The Bruins gave them a whale of a battle and nearly turned to the tide with a furious third-period attack which had a Boston Garden crowd of 13,909 in an uproar.

"Boom Boom" Scores Twice
Bernie "Boom Boom" Geoffrion, who scored two goals, started the Canadiens on their way just 46 seconds after the opening faceoff, deflecting the disc by Don Simmons in the Boston net on a pass from Jean Beliveau.

Maurice "Rocket" Richard then chipped in his 11th goal of the 1958 playoffs at 1:54 with a terrific 20-foot sizzler.

Boston went to the attack after that but it was not until 18:35 of the period before Don McKenney beat goalie Jacques Plante with a 15-foot angle shot.

Montreal clinched the game in the second period on Jean Beliveau's tally at 6:42 and Geoffrion's second goal at 19:26.

Boston Opens Attack
Down 1-4 at the start of the final period, Boston opened up with a barrage of power plays at about the five minute mark. The wideopen style paid off at 5:20 when Norm Johnson scored and again at 13:41 when Larry Regan brought the score up to 3-4.

Simmons was taken out of the net at 18:20 and Doug Harvey pushed home the insurance marker that ended the hockey season with one minute remaining in the game.

Simmons had 41 saves and Plante 31 in the unusually wide-open playoff contest.

Richard had 11 goals and four assists during the playoffs with Detroit and Boston. This was one short of his own record.

Carolina's Sophomores Prove Worth

By The Associated Press

When the baseball season opened, North Carolina Coach Walter Rabb could count his veterans on one hand. No matter how hard he tried, the total was five—plus a field of full sophomores.

Things didn't look good for the Tar Heels.

Now, with the season well under way, Rabb can smile a little. North Carolina is second in the Atlantic Coast Conference, with a 3-1 league record, 11-5 overall. The Tar Heels lost their initial ACC outing to Clemson 2-1, then defeated South Carolina, Duke and North Carolina State. Clemson leads on a 7-0 league record and 11-2 in all games.

One big reason for North Carolina's success is the batting of senior shortstop Roger Honeycutt, a 170-pound, 6-1 junior from Fuquay Springs, N. C. Honeycutt got three hits—a single, a double and a triple—in five trips Saturday as North Carolina defeated East Carolina of the North State Conference 12-3.

In other Saturday games, South Carolina defeated Wake Forest 5-4 and North Carolina State defeated Duke 4-2, both ACC contests. In non-conference games, Maryland defeated Georgetown 6-0 and Virginia bowed to Virginia Military 13-5.

Three league games make up today's schedule: North Carolina State at Virginia, South Carolina at Clemson and Duke at Maryland.

Other games this week: Tuesday—N. C. State at Maryland, Duke at Virginia, South Carolina at Erskine, North Carolina at Wake Forest.

Wednesday and Thursday—No games scheduled.

Thursday—Richmond at Virginia.

Friday—Clemson at North Carolina, Virginia at Richmond, South Carolina at Wake Forest.

Saturday—South Carolina at North Carolina, Clemson at Wake Forest, N. C. State at Duke.

Pastrano Fights In Britain Today

By The Associated Press

Wandering Willie Pastrano, barred from a title fight by Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson's manager, fights in England tonight for the third time in six months.

The 22-year-old heavyweights contender from Miami Beach, takes on England's Joe Bygraves at Leicester in a 10-rounder. He shouldn't have much difficulty with his 26-year-old foe.

Pastrano, in two fights in London, beat Dick Richardson by a big margin Oct. 22 and edged Brian London Feb. 25.

Stefan Redl, who expects to go to Germany soon for a series of fights, meets Charlie Cummings of Philadelphia in the feature television 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

The Hungarian-born, German-reared Redl has an 18-1 record. Du Mont will telecast at 10 p. m. EST.

CHAMP TO RACE HERE—Col. Frederick L. Moore of Arlington, Va., sits in the Austin-Healey that he will bring to Cumberland next month for the national sports car races at Municipal Airport. Col. Moore won the Class D national championship last year, although finishing fourth in the 1957 Cumberland show. The Virginia colonel took part in most of last year's races on the East Coast, his Austin-Healey starting and completing 25 races. This year he drove his little speedster to Miami from Washington, raced 150 miles and then drove back for a total of 2,400 miles. He also won two races in the Orange Bowl national to give him the 1953 Class D lead with 1,000 points.

The Lynn C. Lashley Trophy will be presented to St. Luke's Lutheran, winner of the playoff title, by Roy Manges, league president. D. Black and white jackets will be presented to the five referees: Eddie Brode, Ronnie Riggs, Eddie Root, Gorman Davis and John Golightly.

Ernest Treat, president of the YMCA, will deliver the address of welcome. The invocation will be given by Rev. H. M. Richardson, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, and Rev. George T. C. Bell, pastor of McKendree Methodist Church, will pronounce the benediction.

James H. Fortner, league secretary, is unable to attend on account of the death of his father-in-law.

Approximately 300 reservations have been received for the dinner. Twenty-six different churches will be represented.

Thirty-five persons attended with Gene Mason, City Rec director, being the speaker and also presenting the awards. Other guests included K. O. Christner, proprietor of the Capital Bowling alleys; John Reed, faculty advisor at Fort Hill; Brother Charles, moderator of bowling at LaSalle, and Joe Felten, LaSalle coach.

Sox To Hold News Confab

CHICAGO (INS)—Mrs. Dorothy Comiskey Rigney, secretary-treasurer of the Chicago White Sox, holds an unprecedented news conference in Chicago today which may answer the question of who will eventually control the destiny of the club.

She and her brother, Charles Comiskey, vice-president of the White Sox, have been leading in court for the past five months over settlement of their late mother's estate.

Mrs. Rigney, the silent protagonist in the feud, was expected to speak her mind in an attempt to settle the issue of who will determine future club policy.

Like her late mother, Mrs. Grace Comiskey, she has not granted interviews to newsmen or held formal news conferences. But Mrs. Rigney said she will "publicly answer all questions dealing with the situation."

She and Comiskey have been battling to make sure neither can fire the other from his club post.

The legal battle begun last fall, still is far from settled. Three separate suits now are in court involving Mrs. Comiskey's will.

Prize Fighting Turns Highbrow In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fist-fighting, crude? Come June 11 it will be a very proper spectacle in the capital. Indeed, swank.

On that night, the fight will originate from a plush hotel terrace before an audience attired in evening clothes. The ringside commentary should be discreet and polite.

This highbrow turn for prize fighting will benefit the Washington chapter of Big Brothers of America, an organization which helps wayward and fatherless boys. Promoter Goldie Ahearn, the International Boxing Club, sponsors of the Wednesday night show, and the hotel management are co-operating.

Ahearn said the main event gladiators will be announced shortly.

Sammy Renick Makes Race 'Comeback' As Movie Actor

By JOHN BARRINGTON
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK (INS)—Little Sammy Renick, ex-jockey and TV racing commentator, is a movie actor now, and he auditioned for his first role without knowing it.

Sammy plays the part of "Loser," a fugitive rider, who has been barred for throwing races, in a soon-to-be-released Warner Brothers picture called "Through the Everglades."

When he was asked to read the script, Sammy had an uncanny feeling that there was something familiar about it. There was, it was tailor-made for him.

Not that Renick had anything to do with "boat" races in his riding days. But it seems that, while working on the screen play, writer Budd Shulberg snapped on his television set and saw Sammy.

But Mrs. Rigney said she will "publicly answer all questions dealing with the situation."

She and Comiskey have been battling to make sure neither can fire the other from his club post.

The legal battle begun last fall, still is far from settled. Three separate suits now are in court involving Mrs. Comiskey's will.

Ahearn said the main event gladiators will be announced shortly.

Good Sign For Robin Roberts

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"I felt better out there than I've felt for a long time. Maybe three or four years."

If he can pitch as well as he feels, it's a good sign for right-handed Robin Roberts, the man doing the talking today. He has been wrestling a two-year pitching slump during which he lost 40 games and won 29.

Roberts won his first game of the season and 190th in his 11-year career yesterday. He held the Milwaukee Braves to five hits (two of them home runs) and the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the world champions 3-2 at Connie Mack Stadium. His career win total tied him with Grover Cleveland Alexander, who made it in seven years for the all-time Phillies mark.

Four years ago, Roberts, now 31, won 23 games. A year later he also won 23. He hasn't been over the 20-victory mark since. He was 10-22 last year.

Roberts, now throwing a deceptive rather than blazing fast ball, made the Phillies' victory a virtual one-man job.

He made three singles in four times at bat and scored the first and winning runs. He went to his knees to pick up Red Schoendienst' s rubber and threw out the Braves' second baseman and also converted a hard-hit Henry Aaron drive into an assist.

Dick Metz Captures Lake Charles Tourney
LAKE CHARLES, La. (INS)—Fort Worth professional Dick Metz dunked a 42-foot shot on the third playoff hole to capture the $5,000 Lake Charles invitational golf tourney yesterday.

Metz, 49, stroked the winning shot from 14 feet off the green to break a tie with Buster Cupit of Fort Smith, Ark.

NCAA Adopts New Measures
NEW ORLEANS (INS)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association has adopted a rule governing athletes' eligibility and another which strengthens enforcement of rules infraction penalties.

The NCAA council enacted the measures at a meeting in New Orleans yesterday.

One of the rules authorizes the NCAA to hit at coaches involved in rules infraction cases through the mentor's school. The rule allows the NCAA to cite a reprimand against the school for failure to suspend the coach.

Penalties against the school were not outlined but school action against the coach could involve suspension for one year from athletic duties.

The other NCAA action limits an athlete's eligibility to five years from the date he enters either junior or senior college.

R. C. Stevens Batting 1.000 For Pirates

By International News Service
R. C. Stevens insists that his initials stand for absolutely nothing but delighted Pittsburgh fans figure they must mean, "real cool."

The young first baseman from Moultrie, Ga., has been the most pleasant surprise of the young Pirate season and has been personally responsible for the two victories the Bucs have garnered in five starts.

His latest triumph was yesterday. After replacing Ted Kluszewski as a defensive measure in the top of the ninth, Stevens came to bat in the bottom half of the inning with two out and homered for a 4-to-3 Pittsburgh win.

He also was a late-inning fill-in opening day, singling his first time up and drilling another one-base hit his second time to drive in the winning run in Pittsburgh's 14-inning win over Milwaukee.

Saturday, he pinch-hit a two-run homer in the ninth inning. Those are the only four times he has been to bat. So, he is batting 1.000 and has two homers and four runs batted in.

Stevens, who stands 6-foot-3 and weighs 200 pounds, swings right but throws left which is unusual in itself. The 23-year-old athlete started in the Pirate organization in 1952 with Batavia, N.Y., of the Pony League.

Snead Festival Set May 15-18
WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—The Sam Snead Festival — honoring the Greenbrier Hotel's famed golf professional — will be held here May 15-18.

The spotlight will be on the $10,000 White Sulphur Springs Open and pro-amateur golf tournaments during the four-day festival.

Some of the nation's leading professionals, headed by Snead, will play the first two tourney rounds alone. On Saturday, the pros will be joined by the amateurs for the remainder of the invitational event.

E. J. (Dutch) Harrison won the open last year while pro Claude Harmon and Chace Morsey, Palm Beach, Fla. amateur, teamed to win the pro-amateur.

Luckies Capture Smokers Crown
Luckies of the Smokers Bowling League won two of three games from Camels and with the victory, tucked the second-half championship away with their already won first-half title.

The league champions finished the year with a 30-15 record with Camels finishing second on a 26-19 mark.

Doubles will be rolled today and the League Banquet will be held Sunday May 18th at Minke's Cottage Inn on the Christie Road.

Helen Isner's high game of 148 and John Walker's set of 345 paced the champions as they over Camels. Harry Bennett, 135, and Howard Graham, 345, led Camels.

The league's other match had Old Golds winning a pair of games from Chesterfields. Old Golds was paced by Earl Thompson, 169-436, while Her Shipper, 185-455, sparked Chesterfields.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find your outlook for the year, according to the stars.

FOR TUESDAY, APRIL 22, 1958

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—Uranus is the only planet in especially auspicious position now. Day can be different, favoring the unusual; but there are warnings to avoid extremes and be careful in all undertakings.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—Your Venus position is not too friendly now. Therefore, it behooves you folks to forego some personal desires in order to have more time to matters concerned with the general good.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—This day's influences are neither very stimulating nor too restrictive. Which puts things more or less up to you. But you can handle a difficult situation, also hard work and problems once you set your mind to it.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—Some influences from the Sun may cause instability now. Be careful, therefore, to keep a steady hand and manage all things with thoughtfulness, intelligence. Don't doubt; go ahead with your best efforts; you'll be rewarded.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo)—Not a day for attaining all that you want for your education. You may have to be directed a little differently than usual. Let needs guide you.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra)—Indications similar to Taurus. Carefully study your program and allocate tasks and various matters to their proper places. Then handle them in that order. It can be a difficult situation.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio)—Some friendly influences. However, you're demanding more than you can reach for now. Be realistic.

NOVEMBER 24 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius)—Similar to Scorpio. You can profit from previous experiences—both your own and others—also by emulating the achievements of successful persons. Be alert.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn)—"Stay in your own back yard" should be your slogan now. By this we mean that it would be advisable to attend to your own affairs before taking over the duties of others.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius)—You are on the "lucky" side of the fence with regard to Uranus, well positioned. You should have high incentive now. A good period for proposing new ideas and methods of work.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces)—Self-control is in order now. Don't hamper yourself with "ifs" and "buts." Go ahead with your day's demands. Keep within the limits of your strength and capacity, however. A well-balanced program needed.

TODAY have fine mental attributes and the courage of your convictions. You are fearless in the defense of family, friends and the right. Don't become over-sensitized easily and don't worry. You have too fine and too strong a character to permit harmful tendencies to defeat your happiness and achievement. You may have two of the sciences, like matters of an intellectual nature; could do well as construction engineer, architect. Strive always to be serene and reasonable. Birthdate: Henry Friedman. Fine novelist, playwright: Queen Isabella of Spain.

Hands And Bids Out Of World

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Freak hands produce strange results: Put one into an individual tournament and things really happen.

Hayden Reynolds of Starkville, Miss., sat South and jumped right to four hearts over East's unusual forcing two old. West passed and Leon Levinsohn of Mobile, who sat North checked his cards carefully. If it had not been for his three of clubs he would have suspected that someone had rung in a pinocchio deck.

He bid four no-trump.

When East bid five clubs Mr. Reynolds was off the hook. He passed and Mr. Levinsohn jumped to six hearts. East went to seven clubs and Mr. Levinsohn decided that his partner would have doubled seven clubs with his blank hand if he held even one club. Hence, Mr. Levinsohn bid the heart grand slam and

Mr. Reynolds had no trouble making it.

The grand slam bid and made was a top score as all other tables either played seven clubs doubled down three or four tricks depending on the opening lead or six hearts undoubled and made.

It is interesting to note that no East or West pair got into the spade suit. If East had bid a desperate seven spades he would have got out for two tricks down and a top score.

Lightning Hits Ridgeley Home

Lightning caused considerable damage yesterday afternoon to a home in Carpenter's Addition near Ridgeley.

Volunteer firemen of Ridgeley responded to the alarm. They said some damage was done to the home of James Summers.

About 15 volunteers went to the scene of the blaze which was out on arrival. The bolt struck the top part of the structure, firemen said.

Robbers Face Violations Of U. S. Parole

Federal detainer warrants have been filed with Preston County (W.Va.) authorities for two of the three men awaiting grand jury action for the alleged armed robbery of Dave Brown near Romney on March 31.

The warrants have been issued against Patrick Edward Patterson, 19, Jacksonville, Fla., and Harry George Voelker, 23, McKeesport, Pa., U. S. Marshal John F. Barr reported.

Patterson is charged as a conditional release violator from the Federal Reformatory at Chillicothe, Ohio, where he was sentenced under the federal Juvenile Delinquency Act, officials said.

Voelker is charged as a parole violator from the Chillicothe institution where he was sentenced on a charge of interstate transportation of a stolen motor vehicle.

Patterson and Forrest Lipscomb, 20, Thomas, were ordered held for grand jury action of the June term of Preston County Circuit Court charged with the armed robbery of Brown. Voelker waived preliminary hearing to the grand jury on a charge of being an accessory before the fact of the robbery.

All three were apprehended in Winchester, in Brown's car which they admittedly stole in an attempt to reach Texas to shop out for Cuba to join Castro's army. Patterson and Lipscomb allegedly robbed Brown at gunpoint of some $40 and his auto after he picked them up as hitchhikers. Voelker allegedly waited for the two while they committed the robbery, all part of their scheme to obtain transportation to Texas.

Registration Office To Be Open Saturdays

Cumberland's voter registration office plans to be open two Saturday mornings prior to the registration deadline May 13.

Ullery, however, urged that new voters not wait until the last minute, but register as soon as possible.

An upswing in the number of registrants was reported today by Mrs. Ruth Mangus, registration clerk. Mrs. Mangus said that with only half of April gone 144 had registered. This is 15 below the 159 registered the entire month of March.

Ruling Sought On Delinquency

Allegany County Circuit Court has been asked to rule on the finding that a 23-year-old local man serving a six-year term on a larceny charge is a defective delinquent.

He is Jerry Frantz, who was sentenced on November 28, 1955, by former Chief Judge George Henderson to serve six years in the House of Correction for larceny of an automobile.

State's Attorney James S. Getty said Frantz was transferred to Patuxent Institution, where he was examined April 4 and found to be a defective delinquent.

Frantz, who will be represented by William H. Geppert, has asked for a hearing before the court to determine whether or not the finding is correct.

Mr. Getty said that if the defective delinquent finding is upheld, Frantz will be returned to Patuxent Institution, and if not will be sent to the House of Correction to serve out his term.

A defective delinquent, Mr. Getty said, is defined as a person, with aggravated anti-social behavior.

He said tentative plans have been made to hold the hearing before Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris late this month.
